The Correct Feeding of Infants

No attempt to provide a correct system for the progressive feeding of Infants was ever successfully carried out until the "Allenburys" Series of Infants Foods were introduced. So successful have the "Allenburys" Foods Nos. 1, 2 and 3 proved, that whenever a child is denied the privilege of the mother's milk they are indispensable.

Banking In Japan

There have been another series of runs on Japanese banks—mostly small ones, but still very disagreeable incidents, which it is well to avoid. According to the Kobe Yushin Nippo, this has stimulated afresh the movement for banking combines, which has been very much in evidence from time to time for the past three years. The agricultural banks were practically forced into the arms of the semi-official Hypothetic Bank, and many notable combines have been effected. Still there remain a great many independent banks, and independence of any kind is anathema, the Japan Chronicle reports.

The Kobe paper says, that the banks as a rule lend out all their deposit money as loans, and invest their capital in their premises. When a run comes, therefore, they have no cash to meet it, and business is suspended. Of course, there is the Bank of Japan to whom application can be made for help, but the Bank of Japan, being an official affair, has to make prolonged investigations, and by the time it is satisfied that the bank is sound it is too late to save it! As this difficulty appears to be insuperable, the Finance Department thinks it would be a good idea for the banks to combine, and for the Bank of Japan to keep data of the standing of each group, and then, as soon as anything unforeseen occurred, the Bank of Japan could come to the rescue—and apparently the rest of the group would be responsible. It sounds all right in its way, but unless stringent precautions were taken, the individuals of the ground would find in such an arrangemen a direct encouragement to "plunge" on doubtful enterprises, where the profits could be enjoyed when the plunge proved prosperous, while in case of its miscarriage, the Bank of Japan would automatically come to the rescue.

Perhaps this is not quite the idea. It may be intended to form so complete an amalgamation that the group would become one bank, in which case the present bodies would only be branches, without the power to indulge in gambling speculation. But in that case also, when a crisis came, it would be on a large scale, and the Bank of Japan would run much larger risks in rescuing the big bank than it would run now if it rescued a small one without due investigation.

However, amalgamation is very much in fashion. It prevents competition, increases security, extends credit, and diminishes the burden of responsibility. No wonder it is popular.

More Details Of Outrage On American Ship At Ichang

Further details are sent in a communication concerning the outbreak at Ichang last Tuesday night when a Chinese official accompanied by an armed guard "shot up" the American steamer Alice Dollar wounding Captain Tornroth, Mrs. Tornroth, Mrs. Windham and her daughter Miss Windham, says the Central China Post (Hankow).

The writer says the fracas started in the first place wher a Chinese official came aboard drunk, and demanded two rooms for his own use. The ship's compradore an old man of 75, stated he was unable to do this as all the rooms were engaged, but informed the official he would do his best to get him accomodation.

This failed to satisfy his mightiness who promptly started to belabor the old compradore. Captain Tornroth of the Alice Dollar was informed of what was happening when he at once came down to try and settle the dispute.

As soon as the Captain interposed his body between the offical and the compradore the former shouted to his bodyguard to attack the Captain whereupon sixteen men armed with Mauser pistols threw themselves towards Captain Tornroth.

CAPTAIN'S GALLANT FIGHT

The Captain seeing how serious the matter was becoming grabbed the official by the throat in one hand and with the help of his other and by using the official as a buffer succeeded in keeping the braves from using their guns on him. Mr. Wyndham had by this time come to the Captain's assistance but seeing that Tornroth was holding his own, he rushed to the bridge and raised the alarm to the man of war by means of the siren. He then seized a rifle and rushed to the Captain's assistance again and between the two of them they managed to hold the Chinese until the picket boat ranged alongside, although by this time the Chinese had fired three times.

When the picket boat came alongside the Chinese took to their heels but the official and all his men were arrested.

THE WORST PART

Although the fight was over the worst part of the business remains to be told. When the Captain and Mr. Windham staggered up to the bridge deck both being badly bruised they found Mrs. and Miss Windham, and Mrs. Tornroth who had been dining aboard all streaming with blood. Miss Windham in particular being badly wounded. Surgeon Lt. Levis of the Isabel who was the first aboard the Alice Dollar in reply to the alarm promptly attended to the injured and was working hearly all night in his efforts to make them comfortable. The ladies who were on the top deck were wounded through one of the bullets striking a steel beam close to them, and ricochetting back in pieces. Their injuries are as follows:

Miss Windham badly wounded in neck.

Mrs. Windham slight wound in breast.

Mrs. Tornroth slightly wounded in both sides of the neck and on the forehead.

Captain Tornroth was bruised all over and his left leg has been laid open to the bone. In spite of his condition Captain Tornroth intended to take his ship away next day.

One cannot but wonder what would have been the fate of all these foreigners if the gunboat had not been lying close handy as in the fighting the Chinese were shouting to throw the foreigners into the river. Incidentally it shows the contempt with which Chinese regard gunboats when they start a fight like this with a gunboat only 200 yards away and three others in port. They would never have tried it with a Japanese as they realise they mean business.

WHAT TO DO WHEN BABY CANNOT SLEEP.

The baby that cries half the night does not cry for fun. It cries because it is not well. Almost all infantile ailments, including the pains of teething, arise in the first place from stomach and bowel troubles. To induce sleep in a natural way, therefore, all that is necessary is to set these troubles right, for which purpose Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, have been specially devised.

The first effect of the Tablets is to act gently and kindly on the bowels. Then they soothe the stomach, allay teething pains, and promote calm natural sleep, the baby waking up thoroughly rested and ready for its meal.

Baby's Own Tablets are guaranteed to contain not the minutest trace of any opiate, narcotic, or other harmful drug. They are equally harmless and helpful to the youngest infant as to the child of 6 or 8 years, and are a proved remedy for infantile constipation, colic, diarrhoea, simple fever, colds and worms. Chemists sell Baby's Own Tablets or post free at 60 cents the vial from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

Belgian Buys P. I. Plane For China Flight

With Governor General Wood's approval, Alfredo Carmelo, local sportsman, has sold his 100 horse-power Curtiss aeroplane to Jose Lefert, a young Belgian aviator who is in Manila on a world tour, says the Manila Times. The sale has been sanctioned with the guarantee given by the Belgian consul that the plane will not be left in China but will be taken out of there.

This plane, according to Mr. Carmelo, cost him P. 5 Carmelo, cost him P. 8,500. when a Filipino division was being raised for overseas service, from the Curtiss Aeroplane company. Inasmuch as aviation has been discouraged here Mr. Carmelo said, he has decided to dispose of his plane for P. 2,000.

M. Lefert plans to leave Manila as soon as the weather improves, flying to Vigan, thence to Formosa, Swatow, Hongkong, Fuchow, Shanghai, Tientsin, Peking, across Siberia, Alaska, Canada to New York and then to South America, crossing the Atlantic to Southern Africa, and finally up north to Egypt and Europe.

According to M. Lefert, he is travelling around the world, not necessarily by aeroplane all the way, on a bet he made with some friends in Belgium. He came to the east by way of Mesopotamia where he had some unpleasant experience with the nomadic Arabian tribes, having only one year and three months left to win the bet. The wager is 500,000 francs, he says.

WEATHER

Cloudy, but fine weather. Freshening winds backing to N. E. over our coasts. The typhoon, having landed over Kwangtung, will continue N. Wwards. The typhoon, to the S. E. of the Loochoos, will advance towards these Islands, threatening the Eastern Sea, and also our coasts, between the North of the Formosa Strait and the Yangtse mouth. The Guam typhoon will advance W. N. Wwards to the North of Yap.

The New President

BENEATH the tide of sorrow naturally and appropriately sweeping the American people in consequence of the death of President Harding there may be plumbed an undercurrent carrying a measure of consolation as regards the Magesterial office so tragically made vacant. This statement is in no wise a detraction as applicable to the late president; rather is it an added tribute to the man who, after his scant two years of stewardship, could leave the tremendous affairs of a country like the United States in so satisfactory a condition—and a tribute to the man who has become President Harding's successor.

Of President Harding's larger accomplishments during his term of office—referring particularly to those of international significance—too much has been recorded to make repetition necessary in this place. His labors for the improvement of conditions at home, for the return to "normalcy" after the unnatural and hectic times during and immediately following the war, are almost as well known, their efficacy generally and gratefully recognised. He took the helm during days of financial stress, in the face of a grave unemployment problem and amid generally disturbed conditions. Today largely by reason of his program of placid constructiveness, the United States is the most prosperous among the nations, there is no unemployment within its boundaries and conditions have adjusted themselves to a degree closely approximating that "normalcy" which was the President's announced goal.

Under such circumstances, with such a firm ground-work for the continued growth of America's prosperity, it is to be expected that the people of the United States view without apprehension the advent of the new Chief Magistrate, for they have confidence in his power and ability to carry on and develop the work which Mr. Harding began.

President Coolidge brings to his high office a proven capability and strength as an executive. He is a man of experience in public affairs and long since established himself as a laborer for the public weal. He is best known perhaps of his activities while Governor of Massachusetts and for that later eloquent endorsement of his term by re-electing him after he had crushed the Boston police strike. But previous to his gubernatorial successes he was well known in New England as an advocate of constructive liberal measures. As state representative and senator he worked quietly but efficiently for important legislation having to do with public welfare and went on record as an opponent to much which he deemed against the general good.

His earlier legal career and his experience as a city official brought him into that touch with the business world of which traces are to be seen in his later political life.

He is generally regarded as a quiet and reserved but wholly efficient and sound-thinking official and it seems safe to predict that he will take over the burden of state with aptitude and to the [illegible] fellow citizens.

It's really not the heat so much you know—it's the humidity!

Justice In China

There were strong hopes that, as one result of the present state of chaos in which China is and the many outrages which occur the Powers would not proceed with their declared intention to place all their nationals in this country under Chinese jurisdiction by the abolition of extrality. But to judge from what has happened in connection with the Lincheng case, of murder and wholesale kidnapping of foreigners, it would be well not to take this for granted. It may so happen that the thing will be done, and some fine day all foreign residents in China will suddenly be made aware they have become liable to be treated in the same way as Alexander Hjeldt, third engineer of the s.s. Kiangshin.

The Diplomatic Body have not taken the public into their confidence with regard to the action which they intend to take in connection with the Lincheng affair, in spite of the length of time which has passed while they were still considering. It is, however, stated that an indemnity for $5,000 odd is to be demanded for each foreigner who was kidnapped, and a fantastic arrangement for the protection of railways put in operation under which the trains will be even more crowded in the future than in the past with soldier blackguards—guards they are to call them now but that will make no difference—and they are to have machine guns. If ever these begin to shoot, it will be wisest for the passengers to take their chance with the bandits than to remain in the train.

If this is all, their excellencies could not have done better had they been engaged the whole while in considering how best to let China off cheap, and perhaps it was so. The other evening in the cinema a picture was shown of the liberation of the Lincheng captives in which the bandit deputies appeared. They were surrounded by a group of foreign officers in uniform, said to be the military commission sent from Peking by the Ministers to investigate the case, and several Consuls. They were on the best of terms with the bandits, and all as happy together as could be. This sight so enraged us that we left the cinema. That men steeped in blood, and guilty of every kind of dastardly crime should be treated on a friendly footing by foreign functionaries without any call to do so, struck us as an outrage on all right feeling, and deepened the conviction that up in Peking they are hopelessly wrong-headed, and capable of sacrificing extrality without ever a word being said.

Alexander Hjeldt, the third engineer of the s.s. Kiangshin was a Finn and had no extrality. He had held his position for four years and was considered a trustworthy and reliable man. On the arrival of this steamer, on the evening of June 26, 29 automatic pistols and 3,000 rounds of ammunition were found by the searchers in his cabin. Next day a message was sent to him to go to the office of the Commissioner of Foreign Affairs and explain the matter. A friend proposed to run him down in his motor car, but before it left the native street it was boarded by a group of police and taken to the Concession Deputy's Office on the Taip'ng road, and then Hjeldt disappeared having been very neatly kidnapped. Next it was learned he was in the military prison at Wuchang, but not allowed to communicate with anyone or anyone with him, and so the time passed till three days ago when he was called before a military court, declared guilty of smuggling arms and sentenced to twenty-two months imprisonment. There were no lawyers present to argue the matter, no interpreters although the parties could not understand a word of each other's language, no witnesses, and no real trial. The accused was simply told he was guilty and what his sentence was. This is what it means to be without extrality.

Yet Hjeldt had a good defence, had any opportunity been acorded him of putting it forward. He said a lame Russian of the refugee class was travelling by native passage on the steamer, and when the boat was tying up he requested him (Hjeldt) for permission to place his baggage in the third engineer's room as he could not carry it. This permission was granted, but Hjeldt never saw the stuff at all. It is quite possible the story was true for more than once Sir Robert Hart, the Inspector-General of Customs, was held up by his own Custom's men for smuggling opium, which had been placed in his baggage by his boy; and many a steamer officer has had to answer for similar discoveries made in their cabins. If a motor car is found in a stable it does not follow that the horse put it there.

The same day as Hjeldt got into trouble, 70 automatic pistols and 7,000 rounds of ammunition were discovered on the s.s. Siangyang Maru in the possession of a Japanese passenger who was handed over to the Japanese Consul-General. He was duly tried, found guilty of smuggling arms, and sentenced to twenty-two days imprisonment through the beneficial influence of extrality. But some time before that, a Russian was caught at the same game and kept in the Chinese prison for quite a while when he was sentenced to spend two years in jail only, as a favor, he need not begin to serve the sentence till four years had elapsed, and was thus allowed to go about his business.

From the above it may be seen what a farce Justice will be in China when extrality is given up. But sometimes the results may be serious. Three years ago, in the month of August, a German named Max Goehler was apprehended in Hankow by the Chinese police on a charge of having embezzled money in Kiukiang from a native firm. We wrote an article on the case of which the conclusion was:—

"At Kiukiang Max was tried by the district magistrate, but what transpired on the occasion is not known. The language used in the court he did not understand; no legal assistance was available for him, and his condemnation was a foregone conclusion. He was sentenced to be kept in prison until the money claimed by the company was refunded—a life sentence, if his story was true—while the public will never know what were the facts of the case. It is not asserted that Max was harshly treated, or that he was necessarily an innocent man, but it is insisted that the Chinese method of administering justice comes far short of the foreign ideal.

"Max was again confined in the native jail to serve his sentence. Those who have seen the conditions under which Chinese prisoners are detained need not be told how insanitary, unclean, unventilated and confined such quarters are, and how dangerous to the health of a European—especially during the dog days—to be kept there. It was too much for Max who took seriously ill. There was on hand no accommodation for the sick, and no medical aid, so he was hurried up to Kuling under a guard of soldiers, where he immediately died. If the company lost its money Max lost his life. The whole affair is instructive as showing what it means when Europeans are made subject to native administration."

In the three years which have passed since then the situation has got worse instead of better. —Central China Post.

More Truth Than Poetry

BY S. E. KISER

"I'm willing to admit," he said,
"That I may have some limitations;
My fame, it seems, has never spread
To certain distant backward nations.

"I have been told by men who hold
To prejudice or foolish bias
That I've a fault like that of old
Sapphira's husband, Ananias.

"I've done some things that I regret,
I've taken chances when I shouldn't;
I've tried in many ways to get
An easy job, and found I couldn't.

"Upon occasions that were sad
I have been pushed aside and slighted;
The deepest love I ever had
For any girl was unrequited.

"I've tried my hand at many trades,
But none of them seemed quite to suit me;
Still, if I've failed to make some grades,
Crowds never congregate to hoot me.

"Wealth I have sought, but that reward
Has always seemed a bit elusive;
Still, I believe I can afford
To say my failure's not conclusive.

"I know that with a proper chance
I'd make mankind admire or fear me;
When in my looking glass I glance
I'm very much inclined to cheer me.

"I may have little cause to strut,
Some hopes I've had are on the shelf;
I'm scarred in certain sections, but,
With all my faults, I love myself."

Tribute To President Harding From The Press Of China

Every newspaper in China, native and foreign, has paid tribute to the late President of the United States in a manner that is extremely pleasing to Americans. Representative editorials from North China papers are as follows:

THE PEKING NEWS (Chinese)

The intelligent public all over the world is benumbed by the startling news of President Harding's sudden death. Starting his career as a press boy up to the very moment when he breathed his last, Mr. Harding was a man of the people, a man who understood the people. While it is true that no thrilling tales marked his political life such as filled the biographies of Roosevelt and no Utopian dreams ever haunted his brain such as made his predecessor once an idol in Paris, Mr. Harding's work in the Senate as well as in the White House was nevertheless devoted to the people.

The American public, at the time of the Harding's election, was well accustomed to Roosevelt's speeches and Wilson's histories. They longed for another intellect, a brilliant speaker or a reputed writer or preferably both. Contrary to their anticipation, Mr. Harding possessed none of the qualifications to any considerable degree. By the Democrats, his election was considered a consolation, while to the ultra-radical Republicans, his inauguration was taken as a partial victory. On all sides we heard the remark that Mr. Harding's success was due to the inability of the parties to agree on a prominent partisan. One of the most popular books at the time described him as a "first rate second class president," a movie enthusiast, and a man who loved to talk with the kids and mothers. Men almost forgot that what America needed was not so much an intellectual aristocrat as a moderator, a man who could balance the forces at work and maintain the status quo which was absolutely necessary when the nation was still recovering from the effects of war. It would not discredit Mr. Harding in the least bit to say that he was specially fitted for the post bellum presidency as Wilson was during the war. A president of a recuperative nation, while shared no lustre of the victory that was already gone, required more patience and balancing power than those who brought the country to war. Just because Mr. Harding understood the people, the street people, he was a man of the time. The Americans were simply eager to come to themselves to free themselves from the shackles of war time restrictions. They looked for a president who could stoop down to study their conditions of living, and they got him in Mr. Harding, a president who could fully appreciate the requirements of the nation.

Mr. Harding was a good friend of the Chinese. It will be remembered that the Washington Conference was summoned at his initiation. One could still recall how he made his opening speech with a mixed feeling of joy and apprehension, and when everything was so satisfactorily settled how he concluded the convention with unsuppressed exaltation.

The news of Mr. Harding's death will be received by the Chinese with a feeling of regret, the depth of which is second only to that of the American people. His memory will always be cherished by the Chinese as an outstanding world statesman who stood up for justice and fair dealing in international affairs. To China he gave proof of his high sense of justice only a short time ago. When all the other Powers were contemplating proposals which would infringe upon China's sovereignty on account of the Lincheng affair, he used the influence and power of the great nation of which he was the head to block the attempt to use it as a pretext to put the yoke or foreign control on the neck of China. His death is a great loss to this country. It is keenly felt particularly at this time when she finds herself in an unsympathetic world and beset with difficulties in her dealings with the other Powers. This state of things will probably last for some years, and the influence which President Harding could bring to bear in the name of justice would be of great assistance to China.

A Letter From America

BY LUCIUS C. PORTER
(Foreign Press Service)

New York.—The drug evil is receiving considerable attention in the daily press in American as well as in magazine articles and in books. An evident effort is being made to arouse the American public to a realisation of the enormous number of persons in this country who are already drug addicts and to the systematic methods by which certain groups of people not only supply rightfully be regarded as the vice morphine, cocaine, heroin and codeine to those who have already formed the terrible drug-habit, but seek also to extend their business by luring still others to make the trial that leads so easily to the bondage of the habitue. It is estimated that there are now upwards of one million drug addicts in the United States.

CRAVING

People are beginning to realize that the use of drugs "cannot of any group of individuals or even of any single race." On the other hand the habit is based on a fundamental craving for relief, which craving is, perhaps, intensified by the nervous strain of highly civilized life. The discovery of the agents through whom the inmates of prisons and asylums are furnished with the narcotics they are accustomed to is leading to more vigilant efforts to control the importation of the drugs from abroad. It is becoming evident that the task of ridding the world of narcotic drugs must be undertaken by all governments and all peoples in united effort. Only a supervision of the growing of opium and a restriction of the output to amounts needed for medicinal purposes can effect real control of the drug evil.

It is unfortunate that the peoples of the Far-East who are making their own fight against opium products should be implicated in the smuggling of narcotic drugs into the United States. Japanese steamers have been found guilty frequently. Last Summer, for example, $40,000 worth of opium was found concealed above the ceiling of the grand dining room of the "Taiyo Maru" of the Tokio Kisen Kaisha at San Francisco.

SMUGGLING

The Chinese should make it a point of national honor to clear the China Mail Steamship Company from the unpleasant reputation which the ships of that line have won from their share in this nefarious, though profitable trade. The newspapers report that the s.s. "Nanking" has been found guilty of narcotic smuggling at least seven times and has paid fines aggregating $139,639.10. China should regain the approval of the world which she won by the remarkable efforts by which she first broke from the shackles of opium.

BOXER FUNDS

Considerable attention is being given in America to the remission of the "Boxer Indemnities" which are being discussed in England and in Japan. The New York Times in an editorial entitled "An Infectious Generosity" calls attention to the decision of the British Government to return to China $50,000,000 within the next 23 years, and notes that the Japanese Government is considering a remission of its share of indemnity. The same editorial comments on the influence which the example of the United States is having upon other nations. The suggestion to remit the indemnity originated with the veteran missionary, Rev. Arthur H. Smith, D.D., who made the proposal to Theodore Roosvelt, who gave effect to it. The enormous sums which are now being considered for remission are proof of the widespread influence resulting from a single good idea. It is of the greatest importance that Chinese leaders should plan with the greatest care and wisdom for the best use of the funds which are to be returned to China. It is possible that both Britain and Japan will set certain conditions under which the proposed remissions are to be expected. But there is a great body of public opinion in the West to support the contention that the Chinese should be free to control the funds returned and to decide how to expend them. It is of the first importance for China's honor and good name that the expenditure be carried out without any suspicion of misuse or dishonest management.

ENDOWMENT

Would it be possible to make of the total funds remitted a great endowment fund to be administered for the support of some one of the reconstructive tasks that press so upon the struggling new China? Tsinghua College founded by means of the funds remitted from the United States, suggests an educational use for the new Fund. Perhaps China will organise a Board of General Education by means of which the vast sums taken from China as a punishment for her attempt to destroy foreigners and the modernized ways of life they brought to her shores may be used for modernizing the people of China in such educational ways as shall enable them to recover their own cultural treasures and combine them with the best from abroad as a contribution to a true world culture.

BUT YET A WOMAN

"JUST one more round" cried the gay crowd.

"Indeed, girls, you must excuse, me," said Letitia Brown, glancing uneasily at the clock. "My husband will be expecting me and it is already 11 o'clock."

"Oh, she's tied to her husband's strings. Let her go," said a pert little blonde with a hat tilted over her eyes, who was sitting upon the table.

Letitia blushed. All her womanhood was aroused. She had not the moral courage to resist the taunts of her companions.

"All right, girls," she cried, striking a match on her bloomer and lighting a dainty cigarette. "Fill 'em up again."

The attendant brought another saucer of ice cream all round and Letitia soon forgot her waiting husband in the merry click of the spoons and the chatter of lively voices. Outside in the biting cold the thin, shivering form of her husband crouched against the wall, as he listened to the sound of revelry.

A burly policeman passed and gazed suspiciously at him and then went her way crunching peanuts and twirling her rolling pin. He could stand it no longer and opened the side door of the saloon and entered.

Letitia," he cried, "come home with me. You have already had enough cream."

The woman staggered to her feet.

"John," she cried, "this is no place for you. Go back to the children."

He turned sadly away.

"Very well," he said. "That good looking young lady in the next house is staying with them while I—"

"You wait for me, John Brown," said the lady sternly. "I'm going home this minute. Good night, girls."

TO A PORTRAIT

She might have been some princess fair,
From Nile's banks where lotus blooms;
Or one of Pharoah's daughters there
Asleep amid long moulded tombs.
Or fairy princess sweet and proud.
Or Gipsy queen with regal smile
Helen of Troy, or Guinevere,
Or Vivian with her witching smile.

Or Zeno's Queen, or Lilly Clay,
Or Mrs. Langrty; or a maid
Of fashion, who, in costume scant
Her charms is won't to have arrayed.
But none of these she is—not e'en,
Andromeda chained on the rocks
I found her lovely, lone and lorn
A chromo on a cracker box.

AN OPPORTUNITY NEGLECTED

A farmer who lives about four miles from Houston noticed a stranger in his front yard one afternoon last week acting in a rather unusual manner. He wore a pair of ducking trousers stuffed in his boots, and had a nose the color of Elgin pressed brick. In his hand he held a sharpened stake about two feet long, which he would stick into the ground, and after sighting over it at various objects would pull it up and go through the same performance at another place.

The farmer went out in the yard and inquired what he wanted.

"Wait just a minute, " said the stranger, squinting his eye over the stick at the chicken house. "You see, I'm one of de ordnance corps of engineers what's runnin' de line of the new railroad from Columbus, Ohio, to Houston. De other fellers is over de hill wid de transit and de baggage. Dere's over a million dollars in de company. See? Dey sent me on ahead to locate a place fer a big passenger depot, to cost $27,000. De foundation will commence right by your chicken house. You charge 'em high for dis land. I gives you pointer. See? Dey'll stand fifty thousand. 'Cause why? 'Cause dey's got de money and dey's got to build de depot right where I says. I've got to go on into Houston to record a deed for a right of way, and I never thought to get fifty cents from de treasurer. You might let me have de fifty cents and when de boys comes along in de mornin' tell 'em what you did, and any one of 'em 'll hand you a dollar. You might ask 'em fifty-five thousand, if you—"

"You throw that stick over the fence, and get the axe and cut up exactly half a cord of that wood, stove length, and I'll give you a quarter and your supper," said the farmer. "Does the proposition strike you favorably?"

"And are you goin' to throw away de opportunity of havin' dat depot built right here, and sellin' out—"

"Yes, I need the ground for my chicken coop."

"You refuse to take fifty thousand dollars fer de ground, den?"

"I do, Are you going to chop that wood, or shall I whistle for Tige?"

"Gimme dat axe, mister, and show me dat wood, and tell de missus to bake an extra pan of biscuits for supper. When dat Columbus and Houston grand trunk railway runs up against your front fence you'll be sorry you didn't take up dat offer. And tell her to fill up the molasses pitcher, too, and not to mind about puttin' the dish of cooking butter on de table. See?"

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations. It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.,

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for Infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

Save the Babies

Infant mortality is something frightful. We can hardly realise that of all the children born in civilised countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter die before they reach one year, thirty seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one half before they are fifteen! We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

Gallopers Have Three Instead Of Usual One Bad Inning, And Lose

New Catcher Makes Costly Wild Heave In Third Which Lets In Three Runs; Bills And Philpots Get Home Runs; Score Is 9 To 6

By Westa

The main point of difference in the exhibition put up by the Gallopers in their game with the Marines yesterday was that instead of one bad inning, as customary, they had three. Or to put it another way, they had one bad inning as usual, and two that were worse. Stated in still another way, their usual bad inning was terrible and the two they threw in for good measure were horrible. In other words, not satisfied with kicking the old ball game away once they insisted upon kicking it away three times. So you see they are getting no better rapidly.

The score was 9 to 6.

Herby presented a jumbled sort of line up yesterday, due to the non-appearance of Howland. This necessitated the transfer of Thatch to third, with the middle station occupied by Jack Smith. A new man by the name of Bogle was behind the bat. Mr. Bogle got along very nicely until the first half of the third inning, when the Marines were at bat. In that session, after retiring a runner at the plate on a force play he heaved to Scott at first with the laudable intention of making a double play. The double play would have been duly executed, as planned by the new catcher, if Scotty had not neglected to leave his stilts at home. If Scotty had brought those ten foot stilts of his along he might have speared Mr. Bogle's heave, but seeing that he forgot the stilts there was nothing for him to do but stand flat footed and watch the ball sail over his head in the general direction of the New Carlton. Three runs came in before Pepper and Posnecki and Thatch could relay the ball back to the infield, and the fact that it took three relays to get it back will give you some idea of how high Mr. Bogle heaved it over Scotty's bean.

That made it look bad for a spell and everybody was saying, as usual, there goes the old ball game, but strange to relate the Marines suffered an attack of heavitis in the fourth, thanks to which the Gallopers were able to even the score and add a marker for good measure. They already had two, thanks to a life to Buck Taylor in the first followed by a Ruthian clout for the circuit by Freddy Bills. Three more in the fourth gave them a one run lead, and it looked like the old ball game, which apparently had departed thence, might come back home to roost.

It was not to be, however, for in the seventh, while Bullard was still on the mound, and in the ninth, after Posnecki had relieved him, the devildogs fell into hitting streaks that ran the Gallopers ragged. They would have been run raggeder still except for some marvelous grabs in the outfield by Taylor and Pepper, but as it was they got two runs in each of those sessions, which were enough.

The Marines nicked Bullard and Posnecki for a total of fifteen hits, and fifteen hits as anybody from the foul coolie up will tell you will win a lot of ball games. One of these licks was a homer by Philpots, and when it is mentioned that Philpots is so crippled in one foot that he can hardly walk, and that he made the circuit pulled up to a slow trot you will get some idea as to the distance he propelled the little pill. Benson, their short stopper, slapped out a three bagger that nearly tore Posnecki's legs off as it whizzed by.

The only long distance clout on our side was the one that Freddy Bills busted in the first stanza. Freddy connected with the first ball pitched and slammed it clear past The Parsee Cricket club house. Bills had his eye on the ball for fair yesterday, nicking McClaire for three safeties.

Taken altogether it was a ragged but rather interesting game, with the score see sawing until the eighth, when the Marines moved ahead.

The two teams, as a tribute to the memory of President Harding, wore crepe on their uniforms.

CHINESE TEAM DEFEATS KOREANS, SCORE IS 17 TO 7

Athletic Association Men Hit Well; Chan Gives Good Pitching

The baseball team of the Chinese Amateur Athletic Club defeated the Korean nine to the tune of 17 to 7 yesterday afternoon on the Y.M.C.A. ground on North Szechuen Road extension. The win was mainly due to the heavy hitting of the Amateurs and the good pitching of Albert Chan who held the Korean ball-tossers to only a few hits.

The game was featured with some loose plays chiefly on the side of the losers, but it was made interesting now and then with some spectacular catches and two double outs. "Uncle" Chang grabbed a fly in deep left which caused a sensation among the spectators and the players as well. He also hit two three baggers, one which meant three runs.

The Amateurs showed better form and deserved the win. The Korean pitcher was rather weak, having walked half a dozen and allowed about fifteen hits. He also lacked the support from the infield players. But the Amateur pitcher is in great form. He fanned about ten men and allowed only a few hits. T. T. Zee seemed to work well as his catcher.

For the losers, Hyim on first and Sah at third played well. Shen, the catcher, was good with his stick.

S. Y. Lock umpired the whole game with decisions that were satisfactory to both sides.

A return match will be staged at the Nanyang ground at Siccawei Road next Saturday afternoon.

GOOD BOUTS SEEN IN AMATEUR SHOW AT THE STADIUM

Amateur night at the Stadium on Friday attracted practically a capacity crowd which waxed so enthusiastic over the nine fast bouts staged that yesterday the Club's officials expressed great gratification over the experiment and announced that a second amateur program will be put on next Friday evening, when an equally good show is expected.

There were several really good set-tos among the novices, who included Russians, Chinese and Filipinos, and all of the gos were worth watching, though one or two were very brief and in one or two instances there was a bit too much disparity between the contestants.

In the curtain-raiser Joe King, a Chinese lad, lost the decision to Young Terry Martain after putting up a game, fast fight for the four rounds. King is a Shanghai boy and a product of the Shanghai Public Schools, where he learned most of his boxing. Although he lost his match to a more experienced lad he will bear watching and after the bout Captain Matty Smith expressed a wish to take him in hand, as he sees in him the making of a top-notcher.

The second go was between two Russian lightweights who put up a spirited four round draw. It was a popular decision.

Two Russian heavyweights, Zemstov, 180 pounds, and Mickloff, 183 pounds, went on next and at the conclusion of the four rounds Zemstov was awarded the decision.

Heavies also figured in the fourth battle—Petroff at 160 pounds and "Battling Wolgast" at 180. Petroff was giving away too much weight and lost by way of a knock-out in the third session.

An interesting session was the fifth, in which Sardoff, Russian, 170 pounds, met Jose, Filipino, at 135 pounds. The bout was fast and furious, with the lighter battler attacking cleverly and furiously and gaining a well-drawn decision. These two lads are to be matched again.

In the succeeding contest Liang, a Chinese lad of 132 pounds, was knocked out by Sokoloff, 135, in the second round. Brodsky, youthful Russian who weighed in at 125, met a Filipino lad named Sanlos, 115 pounds, and being knocked down several times in the fourth lost the decision. The next match was another brief one, Sun Banching, 153 pounds, being knocked out by Hobinsky, 155 pounds, in the first frame.

The stellar bout of the evening was that between F. Y. Lee, of Canton, 116 pounds, and Cessario, of Manila, 115 pounds. The scrap was full of action from start to finish—in fact it was one of the fastest mix-ups seen at the Stadium. Cessario began registering heavily in the third round and floored his opponent three times, whereupon Lee's seconds threw in the towel.

The Stadium management feel that through the first amateur night they have got a line on some admirable talent and they expect to line up some more of it at the next entertainment. The try-outs are expected to result in some mighty interesting gos in the near future.

HERE is the big reason why Champion Jack Dempsey was unable to knock out Tom Gibbons at Shelby July 4. The champion could not hit Gibbons the St. Paul man blocking every trick in the Manassa mauler's bag.

Wade And Roberts Hold Japanese Stars To Draw In Brilliant Tennis Test

John L. Wade and W. P. Roberts provided a tremendous thrill for Shanghai tennis fans yesterday by holding the Japanese stars, Abe and Kawazuma, to a draw after the visitors had victory within their grasp. It was one of the most exciting finishes ever witnessed on a Shanghai court. The Japanese won the first two sets 6-4, 9-3, and seemed to be on the road to a three set victory. Then the Shanghai team, particularly Wade, braced themselves and with a display of tennis that fairly swept the Japanese off their feet they won the next two sets, 6-4, 6-3, bringing the match to square.

The final set was a thriller. Back and forth the teams battled, all four players flashing tennis that was almost superhuman at times, until darkness prevented further play. The score stood 8 games all when the officials decided to call quits.

To Wade belongs the lion's share of this great showing, which is a moral if not an actual victory. His tennis was superb, brilliant, and if his partner had been in his old time form the Shanghai pair would have swept to an easy victory. No better tennis has been shown in Shanghai than that displayed by Wade yesterday.

The Japanese pair got away to a flying start due chiefly to the fact that Wade and Roberts were not working together properly. There was confusion between them; both were working at cross purposes, so that their brilliant play was too spotty to be effective in point making. The Japanese in the meantime were working like a smooth machine, supporting each other with perfect accord and understanding.

As the match went on Wade grew more and more determined. He seemed to have a feeling within him that the Japanese were beatable, and that he could beat them alone if necessary. His play was marked by an absolutely fierce aggression that at times seemed to lift him to heights before undreamed of, even by himself.

The play of the Shanghai men finally got on the nerves of the Japanese, who began to force matters, thus losing many points for themselves.

The contest was witnessed by more than a thousand spectators, all of whom were raised to a great pitch of excitement at various times during the struggle. Every conceivable shot known to tennis was executed at one time or another during the afternoon, and some of the gets were hair raising. Of the four players Abe excelled in accuracy, while Wade was the more dashing and resourceful in his general play. His service, too, seemed to carry more of a sting than that of any of the others.

In the other doubles match the Shanghai players lost in straight sets, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4.

Swiss May Not Be In Olympics

Geneva, August. 3.—Financial difficulties, it is feared will prevent participation by Switzerland in the Olympic Games next year. The Swiss Government is manifesting a disposition to refuse to grant a subsidy for the purpose.

O'HARA TEAM WINS CRICKET GAME EASILY

Baker And Mansel Smith Are High Batsmen

WIN BY 86 RUNS

Grimshaw's Men Outclassed; Peck Best Bowler

Owing to the heat there was no game on the Rec's ground yesterday. The Cricket Club however played a friendly game, Dr. W. E. O'Hara's team defeated Mr. R. Grimshaw's XI. by 86 runs.

There were no outstanding performances, Baker made 40 runs which was the highest score on both sides. Peck headed the bowling averages with 4 for 27. Rawsthorne did well in getting 5 for 44.

Bathurst who made the second highest score hit a six off Mansel Smith who took the greatest number of wickets in the game namely, 6 for 60.

Dr. W. E. O'Hara's XI. won the toss and batted first, keeping the fielders in the sun for two hours and a quarter. The start was promising. Clifford and Baker took the score up to 50 when the former was l.b.w. to Widdup for 21. No sooner had Bathurst followed than Baker was bowled by the same bowler for 40.

Dr. O'Hara who was in next started well and hit a couple of boundaries in his 16, being caught in the deep by Hammond off Mansel Smith.

Mansel Smith bowled Daniels in the next over for 0. Bathurst who had been in for half an hour, never looked settled, though early in his innings he hit Mansel Smith for a six. He was bowled by Mansel Smith when the score stood at 136, having scored 31 runs.

Jones and Burns who made 18 and 19 respectively were the only remaining batsmen to offer any resistance. Jones who did so well last Saturday showed but little sign of his previous form.

The innings closed, leaving the opponents 172 to make to win.

Mr. R. Grimshaw's XI. opened with Claxton and Bell. At no point of the game did they look like winning. The first two wickets fell for 9 runs. Leach who went in first wicket down played the best innings of the afternoon, he made 30 before he was caught in the slips by Peck off Rawsthorne.

Nobody else seemed capable of withstanding the bowling of Rawsthorne, Peck and O'Hara who disposed of all 10 wickets between them. Monk stayed in for twenty minutes but only managed to make 10. C. E. M. Thompson played his first innings of the year and scored 12. Peck clean bowled Hammond and Murphy which left Widdup not out 0.

Dempsey Crude At Start Of Career

New York, July 20.—Jack Dempsey, world heavyweight boxing champion, who successfully defended his title in the 15-round match with Tom Gibbons, of St. Paul at Shelby, Montana, July 4, was one of the most crude and unpromising fighters of his class when he made his New York bow in 1915 in a no-decision contest with John Lester Johnson, negro.

Then in his infancy as a fighter and under the managerial wing of John the Barber, Dempsey appeared a sorry prospect for the championship. Johnson, also in fighting babyhood, had just recovered from a knockout from Sam Langford. So they were evenly matched in size and skill and the bout went the limit of ten rounds.

Each claimed the unofficial decision. The negro's blows, however, were most effective, for a pair of Dempsey's ribs were damaged by body blows. Dempsey at that time proved to be a one-handed battler. His defense was poor and he swung his right instead of shooting it straight.

Among other engagements in his first New York visit Dempsey met Wild Bert Kenny, Andre Anderson and Dan Ketchell: Kenny and Anderson stayed the limit of ten rounds each but Kenny fell in the fifth round. Early in 1917, after a series of exploits by no means brilliant, Dempsey was knocked out in one round by Jim Flynn, the Pueblo Fireman. Various reports were circulated about that fight and later Dempsey redeemed himself by disposing of Flynn in less than a round.

While Dempsey's early performances were mediocre and suggestive of anything but future greatness, he developed into one of the greatest heavyweights in ring history. He severed relations with John the Barber and joined in a business deal with Jack Kearns, his present manager.

Dempsey then began to improve his hitting style. Previously he had punched only with his right, using the left solely for defense.

Kearns declared that he strapped Dempsey's right arm to his side and instructed him for months in the use of his left in attack.

It was with staggering left hooks to the face that Dempsey sent Jess Willard to the floor in the first round of their championship engagement at Toledo, July 4, 1919. Willard went to the floor seven times in that round. It was a terrific left hook to the stomach that finished Fred Fulton, the Rochester, Minn., plasterer at Harrison, N. J., in the first round, and it was a left hook to the body that started Georges Carpentier to the floor in the great 1921 spectacle at Jersey City.

Aces Of World To Fly For Big Prizes At Missouri Meet

St. Louis, July 20.—A program enabling virtually every type of airplane and dirigible to compete in the International Air Races here, October 1 to 3, has been prepared by the Flying Club of St. Louis.

In addition to the Pulitzer Trophy race, many other events designed to test the speed, durability and construction of the different types of aircraft have been arranged.

For the first time the Pulitzer race probably will assume an international aspect, as assurances have been received that Sadi Lacointe, the French ace, and Brack Paya, Italian aviator, will enter. The British government may enter Herbert James, the English ace, it has been announced.

The races will be over a 50 kilometer (31.07 miles) triangular course, similar to that in Detroit last year. Each corner of the triangle will be marked by a pylon 60 feet high and about 20 feet square at the base for the guidance of the flyers, who, it is expected, will make the turns at high speed.

The list of trophies and prizes has mounted steadily. In addition to cash prizes totaling $13,000, numerous trophies emblematic of championship in the respective classes will be awarded the winners. Gold, silver and bronze decorations will be given pilots finishing second and third.

A cash prize of $1,000 and a silver loving cup donated by the Chamber of Commerce of St. Louis, will be awarded winners of the "On-to-St. Louis" race. About 100 entries are expected from all parts of the United States and possibly points in Canada.

Other major events and prizes include:

Flying Club of St. Louis trophy, a silver loving cup, and cash prizes totaling $1,000 for two-seated low-power planes; Liberty Engine Builders' trophy and $1,500 in cash for military observation planes only; Aviation Club of Detroit trophy and $2,000 cash for light commercial speed and efficiency planes; Merchants' Exchange of St. Louis trophy and $2,000 cash for large capacity planes, both civilian and military; Mulvihill Model trophy and $300 cash, duration race for model airplanes; and the Detroit News Air Mail trophy and $1,500 for air mail pilots.

BEAUTY COLLECTION

CUTTINGS FROM BEAUTY ARTICLES, THE CREAM OF MODERN BEAUTY ADVICE.

REMOVING BAD COMPLEXIONS

Cosmetics can never really help a poor complexion, often they are positively harmful. The sensible, rational way is to actually remove the thin veil of stifling, half-dead scarf skin from the face, and give the fresh, vigorous, and beautiful young skin underneath a chance to show itself and to breathe.

This is best done in a very simple way, by merely applying mercolized wax at night, like cold cream, and washing it off in the morning. It absorbs the disfiguring cuticle gradually and harmlessly, leaving a brilliant natural complexion. Of course, this also takes with it all such facial blemishes as red blotches, tan, muddy patches, sallowness, liver spots, etc.

The new skin is usually several degrees lighter, and finer in texture.

TO KILL HAIR ROOTS

Women annoyed with disfiguring growths of superfluous hair wish to know not merely how to temporarily remove the hair but how to kill the roots permanently. For this purpose pure powdered pheminol may be applied directly to the objectionable hair growth. The recommended treatment is designed not only to instantly remove the hair but also to actually kill the roots so that the growth will not return. About an ounce of pheminol should be sufficient.

HOW TO HAVE THICK AND PRETTY HAIR

Soaps and artificial shampoos ruin many beautiful heads of hair. Few people know that a teaspoonful of good stallax dissolved in a cup of hot water has a natural affinity for the hair and makes the most delightful shampoo imaginable. It leaves the hair brilliant, soft and wavy, cleanses the scalp completely and greatly stimulates the hair growth. The only drawback is that stallax seems rather expensive. It comes to the chemist only in sealed ¼ lb. packages. However, this is sufficient for twenty-five or thirty shampoos, and it really works out very cheaply in the end.

A Steel Tennis Racquet

Here is the world's finest tennis racquet. It has a steel frame and steel strings, is unaffected by damp or wet weather, lasts longer and is the cheapest racquet you can buy.

DAYTON Steel Racquet

The tubular steel frame cannot warp, crack or break. It will never require a press.

The strings of smooth twisted steel wire cannot be cut or broken in hard play and will never break due to dampness. The racquet can even be played in the rain.

The Dayton Steel Racquet is made in the standard weights, has the standard wooden grip and is perfectly balanced. It plays and feels just like the finest wooden racquet. It is easier to control because its steel frame offers much less resistance to the air than does a wooden frame.

It will last longer and cost less in the end than any other racquet made.

BUSINESS

A Series of Articles on Trade in China Based on Twenty-seven years' Experience.

BY TAIPAN

CHINA TRADE FINANCE AND BUSINESS PRACTICES

THE overseas Import Trade of China is financed either by bills sent to the Bank for collection or by the establishment of Documentary or Confirmed Bankers' Credits. In the case of Bills drawn for collection, the merchant sends his invoice, shipping documents and draft to his banker, who in turn forwards same to the drawee for payment and remits the proceeds to the drawer. The Banks are averse to taking Bills for collection except from responsible clients and the practice is rather uncommon these days.

Ordinarily China business is covered by credits, either Documentary or Confirmed. The latter are irrevocable. The Importer issues a credit through his bank in favor of the seller or manufacturer abroad to enable them to draw on him for the merchandise purchased. The necessary documents must be attached to the Draft and upon presentation the bank will pay the drawer the face amount of the draft and will in turn collect from the drawee the same amount plus interest and any other charges incurred.

The banks in China usually charge ¼ percent commission for collecting Bills and this charge is usually for account of the drawers. There are no stamp charges for bills drawn in China, from the U.S.A. and domestic charges are usually included in the cost of the merchandise unless otherwise specified.

In the case of a protest for payment on Bills drawn, the protest is first lodged at the Consulate of the nationality of the drawee. Each consulate has its specific charge for the cost of protest plus the cost of conveyance from the Bank to the Consulate and back to the Bank. The charges incurred by protest of a Bill are usually for the account of the drawee, except where special arrangement or instruction by the drawer offset the usual procedure. Often protests are brought about through the negligence of the drawer and are brought about by goods being shipped contrary to specifications, either as to quantity, quality or color. In such cases, the drawee if unable to secure satisfactory assurance of adjustment before the maturity of the drafts, allows the bill to be protested.

The payment of banking charges on Bills drawn on China depends upon the form of the Bill and this is a matter of arrangement between drawer and drawee. If the drawer is to pay collection and Bank charges, it is so noted on the bill, otherwise the drawee pays all charges, as the bill reads "Plus all collection charges." Supplementary charges, other than the regular Banking and collecting ones, are borne by the Importer.

In regard to consignments the local banks do not accept these. The banks do take over, on occasion, consignments where the Importer has failed to live up to his obligations, and then merely as a matter of protection either to the shippers or to the Bank. The onus and responsibility is on the shipper and though the bank will do its utmost to dispose of the goods to best advantage, usually through the medium of another realiable Import House, the Bank declines to take the position of a trader, preferring strictly to adhere to Bank business.

Banks will accept parcels for delivery to consignee against payment or acceptance of draft but do not encourage this practice. Where the Bank does accept parcels it is without liability to the Bank. Parcels are usually left in the Post Office until they can be released by the Bank.

Entry of goods for arrival in China, must be made at the Custom House within 15 days of the arrival of the vessel. Should entry not be made within the time limit the goods must be bonded at the Importer's expense. The charges are Hk. Tls. 5.00 for each B/L and storage. Storage charges vary according to the nature of goods and location of bonded warehouse. Other charges that may be incurred are Transfer Charges varying according to the commodity and location.

If goods are bonded, through negligence of consignees, they are responsible for all charges. It happens however that goods sometimes arrive before shipping advices and are bonded without the Importer's knowledge in which cases the shipper has to pay all charges.

Banks will sometimes store incoming goods and will attend to insurance of such goods, all charges being of course for account of consignees. Should goods arrive before the related documents, delivery can be obtained upon the Consignee giving the steamship company a letter of guarantee, which must be countersigned by a bank, preferably the bank through which the documents will be presented. FORMER BANDITS OBSTREPEROUS; 750 ARE SLAIN

Fifty Executed, Others Killed When They Try To Escape

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 6.—Owing to a threatening attitude developing among 1,200 ex-bandits from Sullan, Heilungkiang, who were incorporated into the National Army and being trained at Tsitsihar, 50 were executed on August 3. This alarmed the remainder, who attempted to escape but were surrounded by troops equipped with big guns. As a result, 750 of the ex-bandits were killed and three camp buildings destroyed. Of the Government troops, 50 were killed and 20 wounded.

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, August 2.—The attempt of effecting the release of Father P. A. Melotto through peaceful means and direct negotiations with the bandit chiefs is entirely hopeless, according to information from official sources. General Pan Shou-tseng and Father Albiero of the Roman Catholic Mission who has been working with General Pan in Honan to effect the liberation of Father Melotto, have had their last talk with the chieftains. Seeing no hopes of coming to terms with the latter, who are most unreasonable and ignorant in the negotiations and in their demands, General Pan has decided to take military steps in cooperation with Honan troops to smash the bandit stronghold near Tungpen. Father Albiero has returned from Tungpeh to Sinyangchow where he watches the outcome of the military measures of General Pan.

The bandits are divided into numerous groups, those in the country northwest of Tungpeh

French Ship Hits American Freighter Off Golden Gate

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

San Francisco, Aug. 6.—The French steamer Alaksa, bound from Bordeaux to San Francisco, and the Matson Navigation Company's freighter, Manukai, bound for this port from Honolulu, collided today in a dense fog off the Golden Gate. The Manukai's bow was stove in but both made the harbor under their own steam. No one was injured and the damage to both vessels was slight, according to a report made to the Matson Navigation Company offices here.

Peking
Day By Day

BY "QUI VIVE"

Peking, August 3.—The capital of China is without doubt the most secretive capital in the world, and as such is the fountainhead of rumors, wise and otherwise. The same might be also said of the representatives of the various foreign powers assembled here, men who are in more senses than one, "hand picked" by their respective home governments, but who are never allowed to use their own judgment, but must communicate with their respective Foreign Offices before taking any steps which might be regarded as decisive.

A brilliant example of the dilatory policy may be found in the present long drawn out conferences anent the note to be presented the Chinese Government regarding the indemnity to be accorded the foreign captives in the Lincheng affair. The foreigners were kidnapped on the morning of May 6, and four days later the Diplomatic Body acting as a whole presented formal and impressive demands to the Waichiaopu, threatening dire eventualities unless the captives were released forthwith. Nothing happened.

A week passed and the Diplomotic Body, becoming metaphorically rather hot under the collar, presented another note, couched this time in stronger language, stating that for every day the captives were held, the amount of the indemnity would be raised pro rata. This final ultimatum was delivered about nine or ten days after the outrage occurred.

Nearly three months have elapsed, and the final note has not been presented, because the diplomats could not agree among themselves regarding the phrasecology of the note, could not agree on the demands, and what is the most important, could not agree upon whether the captives should share and share alike, or should be awarded indemnities in proportion to the amount of mental anguish suffered. All this through the "Underground Wireless," which is the only manner of obtaining news, since practically no legation, with the possible exception of the American will ever issue a straightforward statement about anything.

During the past six months newspaper correspondents, prominent business men, commercial organisations and other public spirited bodies both at home and abroad have constantly demanded the withdrawl of recognition of the present "headless" Chinese Government. It seemed as if at one time that the demands were almost universal, and that the governments would have to withdraw recognition in order to meet the will of the people. In fact it seemed the only way out of the impossible dilemma, and the only way to bring the warring factions of the Chinese Republic to their senses.

But apparently there is another side to the story which the lay public has never grasped. I recently enjoyed a most illuminating conversation with one of the foremost diplomats in Peking, a man who has served his country well and favorably for more than a score of years in various posts abroad. He belongs, however, to the new school of diplomats, and this despite the fact that he is as the French say "Un Diplomat de Carriere." Diplomacy is his life work, but withal diplomacy tempered with an amazing amount of human understanding.

Naturally, as a good newspaperman, I regret exceedingly that I cannot lift the veil of secrecy surrounding his identity, because his words would be more forceful as a result. But who am I to run rough shod over precedents which are in a sense, in Peking at least, inviolate. If a "nameless" interview regarding the reasons why the Foreign Powers dare not withdraw recognition of China is of any avail—"Carry On Sergeant-Major!"

"The diplomatic body in Peking has threatened time and again to come to an open rupture with China, to break off recognition summarily, and to pack our little dishes and go home. In fact if we had been accredited to any other country, this is exactly what would have happened several months ago. But in China this course of action is impossible for any number of reasons. I do not say, however, that if pushed much farther, recognition will not be withdrawn, but everything is being done, in fact we are

Daring Plot To Pirate China Merchants' Ship Is Foiled At Hongkong

Kwangtah Passengers, Arriving Here, Tell Exciting Tale Of Police Discoveries As Vessel Was About To Sail

When the China Merchants' s.s. Kwangtah which is on the Shanghai-Hongkong run warped alongside the wharf here at noon on Sunday the news transpired that the vessel had had a very close shave of a determined and carefully thought out plan to hold her up and loot her on her voyage from Hongkong.

But for the vigilance of the Hongkong police on the very hour of her sailing it is extremely probable that the Kwangtah would be another name added to the list of pirated vessels on the China Coast.

No information could be gleaned from the officers of the ship but the following story has been pieced together from the statements of passengers who have arrived by the vessel

The Kwangtah left Hongkong bound for Shanghai on August 1 and a couple of hours before she sailed a foreign police officer with four Chinese detectives boarded her to make a search.

DRAWS PISTOL

Their suspicions speedily bore fruit, for the British police officer found a villainous looking 3rd class passenger with no fewer than three fully loaded automatic pistols concealed on his person. Immediately the sergeant put his hands on the Chinese to search him the latter whipped out an automatic but, before he could fire it, was felled by a blow and promptly handcuffed and placed under guard. On his person was found a photograph of another man who was actually found among the 3rd class passengers and arrested.

Making further search, several more fully loaded revolvers were found placed under mattresses and over beams of the Chinese passenger accommodation.

Eight more suspects were arrested and taken away, making the bag of pirates ten in all, but owing to the scanty numbers of the police the heads of the gang evidently got away from the ship when they saw the game was up. Several first and second class passengers also to the number of eight or ten cleared off the ship leaving their effects behind them.

Another of the pirates arrested turned out to be a man who had come aboard the ship the night before sailing and occupied a cabin which he vacated the next day in favor of another. In this cabin four fresh passengers had installed themselves and two loaded revolvers were found hidden away there. After arrest and search of the first man ten passenger tickets were found upon him, and it is fairly evident that he had gone aboard the evening before, planted the guns in the cabin, and had then told his accomplices to go to room number so and so where they would find their arms ready against the prearranged signal.

While these exciting events were taking place a telephone message was sent to the police asking for assistance and a squad of twelve foreigners and six Chinese police under a foreign Inspector were rushed aboard.

SHIP IS SEARCHED

The ship was taken from the wharf to Kowloon Bay where a thorough and systematic search of all the Chinese passengers and accommodation was made. After assuring themselves that there were no more arms or pirates on board the Inspector told the Captain that he considered it safe for him to proceed on his voyage.

Although, owing to the small number of the police in the first instance, the majority of the gang and the leaders travelling in the first and second class were able to get away it is most significant that the first man arrested, who had a battery of three guns on him, actually possessed a passport showing him to be a ship's engineer. He was a small man with a most criminal and villainous mien and seemed about 28 years of age. When held shackled aboard the police launch he made an attempt to jump overboard but this was frustrated by his guards.

The plan clearly was that after the ship had been held up by the gang it was to have been this man's job to take charge of the engine room and the vessel would have been navigated into some quiet bay on the coast and systematically looted.

RECALLS PREVIOUS CASE

It will be remembered that some months ago another of the China Merchants' vessels, the Kwanglee, was actually held up and pirated by a gang who had gone aboard in the guise of passengers, and it reflects credit on the Hongkong police that they have saved the Company from another of these crimes. It is to be noted that it was owing to

TLS. 200,000 FIRE IN GODOWN ON FRENCH BUND

Fierce Blaze In B. And S. Building Threatens Other Structures

Fire which did damage estimated roughly in the neighborhood of Tls. 200,000 and for a time seriously threatened a great deal more valuable property, broke out late Sunday night in Butterfield and Swire's No. 10 godown on the French Bund—just to the south of the B. and S. main offices—and raged far into the morning, gutting the building. The blaze, the worst seen here in some time, was, through remarkable work by the French and International brigades, held to the one building, the closely neighboring office building and other godowns being practically unaffected.

The fire was discovered shortly before 11:30 p.m. when it burst through the roof near the center of the two-story building and a sheet of flame shot skyward. Central Bell Tower in the International Settlement reported the blaze and, inquiry at the French Department revealing that the outbreak was of very serious nature, six machines of the International department were rushed to the scene.

The French brigade were at work, as were also Butterfield and Swire's staff under Mr. Forsyth with lines of hose from the private fire installation. The No. 10 godown has only a 9-foot passage between it and the main office building, there was a slight southeast wind and the fire was spreading fiercely toward the Bund and toward the No. 16 godown at the rear. The flames were accelerated not only by the character of the cargo stored—silk cocoon refuse, grass cloth, wool etc.—but by a roof of galvanised iron lined with wood and felt with a ventilator running along the main length.

Central Division of the International brigade immediately put their pumps alongside the Bund frontage and, water being low, suction pits had to be dug in the river before an adequate supply of water was obtained.

It was immediately realised by Chief Officer Pett of the Settlement brigade, who was early on the scene, and Captain Chapeaux, of the French department, that owing to No. 10 godown being wedged in between offices and other godowns, the fight would be a hard one to save the surrounding property, more especially the six-story offices and godowns Nos. 13, 16 and 11, and as an extra assistance the Shanghai Fire Brigade float was also brought into action.

Lines of hose were taken up into every available good position and primarily the main building was protected as the windows were licked by the flame and heat, and for quite an hour or so it was touch-and-go as to whether the office building would be saved. No. 13 godown, which lay at the back of this building, offered some resistance constructionally—it being of re-inforced concrete with steel casements and wired glass—but even the latter was being sorely tested and covering jets had to be worked against the south side of the godown. Again, on the west—

The ordinance forbade dealings in foreign currencies except at official quotations and laid down heavy penalties for contravention.

MEMORIAL SERVICE TO BE HELD HERE ON NEXT FRIDAY

Consulate And Court To Close On Day Of Funeral Of Late President

Memorial services for President Harding will be held by Shanghai Americans on Friday in conformity with similar services held by Americans in the United States and all over the world on the day of his burial in Marion, Ohio, according to information received from Consul-General Edwin S. Cunningham last night.

No definite time or place has as yet been fixed for the services but complete arrangements are expected to be announced today by the committee composed of Mr. Cunningham, Mr. J. Harold Dollar, Major C. P. Holcomb, Dr. Anne Walter Fearm, Bishop Birney and Mr. W. T. Findley.

At the same time Mr. Cunningham announced that the Consulate flag would be flown at half mast until sundown on September 3 and that the Consulate would be closed to public business on Friday. Mr. Cunningham also expressed the wish that all American firms and homes arrange to observe Friday as memorial day and to fly their flags at half-mast until after September 3. The United States Court will also be closed on Friday.

Details of the arrangements for the funeral were given Mr. Cunningham in the following cablegram from the State Department received yesterday:

"President Coolidge took oath of office on Friday morning August third. Remains of late President will arrive Washington Tuesday, August seventh. Funeral services in rotunda of capital Wednesday, August eighth. Final obsequies Marion Friday, August tenth and latter date is appointed by Presidential Proclamation signed today as a day of special mourning and prayer throughout the United States. All executive departments will be closed from August seventh one p.m. to Friday August tenth inclusive. Flags will remain at half mast until the close of Monday September third. There will be no official entertainment until December first 1923.

Usual symbols of mourning should be displayed by you until Monday September third inclusive."

Prayers were offered at Holy Trinity Cathedral, the Union Church and Community Church Services yesterday for "the American people in their time of national sorrow at the death of their President, Mr. Warren G. Harding, and especially for Mr. Calvin Coolidge, on his taking up the gave responsibilities of President."

Preaching at the Union Church in the morning, the Rev. C. G. Sparham said in part:

Washington Officials To Meet Funeral Train

(BY UNITED PRESS)
Special to The China Press

Washington, Aug. 6.—President Calvin Coolidge, speaking with correspondents representing every American newspaper today, declined to give out a statement outlining his policies as chief executive of the nation until after the funeral of the late president.

Close friends of the President, however, declare that he is opposed to the United States joining the League of Nations, but, like President Harding, is strongly in favor of the United States becoming a member of the International Court of Justice along the same lines as those made clear by Mr. Harding in his speech at St. Louis, and at Pocatello, Idaho, shortly before his death.

President Coolidge is also said to be of the opinion that the United States should take no part whatever in the present European dispute in the Ruhr. President Coolidge is also an advocate of the European countries paying their American debts, being opposed to any policy of cancelling any debts.

President Coolidge and other high government officials will meet the funeral train with an escort of cavalry and artillery, which will escort the body to the White House where it will lie in state on Wednesday. Thousands of mourning Americans are expected to pass through the East Room and pay their last respects to the dead before the body is taken to Marion on Thursday. The funeral will be on Friday.

San Francisco, Aug. 6.—In memory of President Harding, the first President to die west of the Mississippi river, San Francisco plans the immediate erection of a monument to the late President.

Details of where the monument will stand and what design it will take have not yet been completed. It has been suggested that it be placed in the great Golden Gate Park overlooking the Golden Gate through which the President passed on the Henderson both on his way to Alaska and on his return just before he was struck down by death.

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 5.—There was no cheering by massed thousands and no triumphal music when President Harding's body passed through the capital of Utah en route to Washington in direct contrast to the enthusiastic regiments of people that crowded about the Oregon Short Line station when he passed through only a few weeks before.

Instead the train stopped in the midst of silence. Hardly a sound could be heard except quiet sobbing here and there throughout the crowd. Hats were removed as the funeral train slowed into the station and hardly an eye in the crowd but what was dimmed with tears.

The only official act of any kind here was the presentation of a wreath of state flowers by Governor Charles R. Mabey, Harding's host of a few weeks ago. The wreath was laid on the flag draped coffin in the special car guarded by Marines without a word. The train paused only a few minutes and then continued on its way to Omaha and Chicago.

Mrs. Harding retired early, but before retiring sent messages to Washington expressing her wish that the services at the capital conform as nearly as possible to the services held for President McKinley. There will be no military cortege and no fraternal services although the Shriners, to whom Harding belonged, will take part in the services.

Harding will be buried in Marion—his home town—as a citizen of that town and not as the nation's chief executive.

Mrs. Harding has also requested that all members of the Presidential party that crossed the continent and went to Alaska with the dead leader, attend the services at Marion as well as members of the Cabinet and Harding's close friends among the Senators and Representatives.

JEWISH TRIBUTE PAID

"Israel's Messenger," the official organ of the local Zionist Association, will pay the following tribute to the late President in its next issue on September 8:—

"The sudden death of President Harding will be sincerely mourned by Jews throughout the world. Nations, without adjectives, will unite in deploring his loss at the present critical stage in the history of the world, for he was one of those men who may be called a creature of destiny. In President Harding, the Jews have lost a distinguished exponent of their ideals, an ardent champion of their national aspirations which he did much to foster in his lifetime. There were two or three outstanding features in his administration which entitle him to the homage of the whole House of Israel. It is a well known fact, that President Harding had thrown the whole weight of his influence on the side of Jewish Palestine and gave his hearty support and endorsement to all Jewish efforts in that direction.

"For the first time in the history of Zionism, he received officially the Administrative Committee of the Zionist Organisation of America at the White House, on July 20, 1921. President Harding evinced his keen interest in the Zionist ideal and re-iterated his conviction in the triumph of the Jewish national aspirations. In a letter to a leading American Zionist dated June 1, 1921, he wrote, inter alia, as follows:

'I want to add an expression of my most friendly interest in and for the Zionist movement. It is impossible for one who has studied at all the services of the Hebrew people to avoid the faith that they will one day be restored to their historic national home and there enter on a new and yet greater phase of their contribution to the advance of humanity.'

"When the Palestine Foundation Fund was launched in America last year, President Harding extended the movement his approval and hearty endorsement. In a letter dated May 11, 1922, he wrote to the Zionist Organisation as follows:

'I have always viewed with an interest, which I think is quite as much practical as sentimental, the proposal for the rehabilitation of Palestine, and the restoration of a real Jewish nationality, and I hope the effort now being carried on in this and other countries in this behalf may meet the fullest measure of success.'

"On May 3, 1922 the Resolution declaring that the Government of the United States favors the establishment in Palestine of the National Home for the Jewish people, was unanimously, without discussion, adopted by the Senate and subsequently signed by President Harding.

"The life-work of this truly great and noble American can hardly fail to leave his mark behind; his footprint upon the sand of time was such as will remain indelible. His death is a great loss to world Jewry. His good name will live in the history of our people, a name and a fame whose lustre will not be dimmed and whose glory will grow in the coming centuries."

U. S. Court In Tientsin Adjourns

Immediately upon receipt of the telegram announcing the death of President Harding, the session of the United States Court for China being held in Tientsin was suspended.

Mr. R. T. Evans, speaking on behalf of the American Bar in Tientsin expressed their deep regret at the passing of an honest man and faithful public servant. Mr. Theodore E. Simmang said he joined in the expression of deep regret at the overwhelming loss America had sustained. He said the President's death came at a time when the country can least afford to lose him, but that a power, higher than earthly voices, had called him.

Judge Lobingier said in reply that the Court certainly shared this very deep sorrow. He was greatly shocked at the news and said he was hardly able to express his feelings on the matter. Judge Lobingier thereupon declared the sitting suspended.

Nicola

Nicola, the famous maker of magic, opened at the Carlton Theater last night to a large sized house, and was so good he kept every last one of them until the last curtain dropped. Most of his tricks and illusions were new, and even those that were not, were performed with such amazing rapidity and cleverness that men, women and children sat on the ends of their seats, enjoying every minute.

When the crowd filed out this reviewer asked a half dozen of them at random: "How was the show?". Every one replied that it was good, that Nicola had the stuff and put on a snappy, fast moving, entertaining performance. Consequently we recommend a visit to the Carlton this week while the Great Nicola is doing his stunts.

They particularly stated that they intended to capture Lunghai Railway foreigners.

continually forced to accept slights, in order to keep up as long as possible.

"The present system of Central Government, weak as it is, is better than no government. If recognition of the present Central Government was withdrawn, here is exactly what would happen. We would be forced to deal with the Tuchuns, Tulis, native Princes, military governors, and any one else who happened at the moment to be in the ascendancy in any one of the several provinces. Suppose for example the Diplomatic Body protested in a body regarding unjust treatment of foreigners to the Tuli of Fukien for example, or declared that the liquor tax was unjust in Hunan.

"What would happen would be something like this. The man in power would say, 'By what privilege has your government either the right or authority to protest against treatment of your nationals in my province. Your government does not recognise mine, and therefore you have no jurisdiction. I no longer accord recognition to the central government but am a free and independent state and if you wish to have dealings with me, your government must first recognise my independent status, and then we will see what can be done to remedy a situation which you say is intolerable.'

"You casually mention the promulgation of treaty rights, the admitted principle of extra-territoriality existing in China, and the other rights and privileges accorded foreigners by the memorable treaty of 1858.

"'But,' the military governor replies, 'those treaties were not concluded with my government but with the government of China, to which I owe no allegiance, and evidently you have forgotten that by the withdrawal of your recognition, you have forfeited all rights and privileges accorded by those treaties. Now if you wish to sign new treaties with my government, either for trade, travel, or for political and economic recognition, I will see what terms can be granted.'"

My diplomat friend waxed warm on the subject and stated that all questions of extra-territoriality would be quashed automatically, by the severance of relations, and that the oldest and most callous members of the Diplomatic Corps believed that that was the very thing which the present militaristic hierarchy wished to bring about, and were accordingly goading the diplomats beyond all patience. In conclusion he said:

"Of course the prime fault may be attributed to the home governments, to the citizens living in other lands, who neither know, nor very much care, how their relations and friends fare in the Celestial Republic. It is primarily a question of unifying public opinion to the present situation in China. It is all very well for them to say, 'if my countrymen do not like to live in China why on earth do continue to remain there? Why not return and live a normal life at home?' This attitude may be all very well for the man in the street, who has not large vested interests, has expended his entire capital, or one who is not a shareholder in any one of the large corporations doing business here. It is impossible for any of the latter to get out without sacrificing his entire life's work, he cannot go without knowing that his business will be scrapped within a fortnight.

"It is the duty of the Diplomatic Body to see that treaty rights are maintained as long as it is humanly possibly, to take as strong steps as may be possible for the protection of foreign life and property coming within their jurisdiction, to endeavor to educate the people at home anent the real condition of affairs here, and to pray consistently and consecutively that the people of China will realise what a farce the present government is, and institute changes which will not only benefit foreigners, but themselves in even a greater measure."

Good Shows Draw Crowds To Del Monte

Proof that the Del Monte entertainment program is becoming increasingly popular in Shanghai was furnished Sunday night—usually a dull night for the cafes—in the fact that the Avenue Haig establishment was crowded to capacity.

Miss Routkovsky, the new singer, is one of the best ever engaged by the Del Monte management, and there is no doubt that many who do not ordinarily "go out" on Sunday night were drawn to the Del Monte to hear her sing. "An opera singer that can be heard without paying an opera price or any other price" is the way the Del Monte managers put it. And that is the straight of it. Anywhere except in Shanghai, and anywhere in Shanghai except the Del Monte it would cost from three to six dollars to hear Miss Routkovsky sing.

The show girls continue to improve and with the large number of girls now available the ballet master gets up some wonderful effects.

Good shows, good music and good food make the Del Monte a mecca for those who seek relief from the heat these hot nights.

the action of the British Police sergeant that the ship was saved, and further news of this carefully planned outrage is eagerly awaited from the Crown Colony.

There was a distinct feeling of relief among the passengers, who gave our representative the foregoing particulars, at their escape from what might have been a terrifying, dangerous, and very costly experience.

As an instance of the reckless penuriousness of the Chinese in connection with money, a second class passenger was found with no less a sum than $19,000 in bank notes in his cabin. This would have been a nice haul for the pirates and the foolhardy passenger was sent ashore by the police inspector.

Once the Kwangtah had left the wharf there can be little doubt that this determined and carefully thought out plan for plundering her and robbing the passengers and crew would most probably have been successfully carried out as it was in the case of the steamer Kwanglee some months ago, belonging to the same owners.

BUSINESS

rival of the documents, the letter of guarantee is released in exchange for a negotiable Bill of Lading.

The usual documents necessary in connection with shipments to China are negotiable copies of Bills of Lading, Insurance Policy, which must cover War Risk, and the shipper's invoice. Original manufacturer's invoices with packing lists attached will facilitate passing the goods through the Customs without examination if the Customs are satisfied with the bona-fides of the documents. In the absence of this proof the Customs will detain goods until they are examined. No consular invoices or certificates of origin are required for shipments to China.

Goods which have arrived in port in apparently undamaged condition can be examined only after acceptance of bills. Goods, apparently damaged, can be examined in the presence of Licensed Surveyors, appointed by the Shipping Company's agents and the vessel on which the goods are imported. The surveyors determine the extent of the damage and responsibility.

Bills of Lading so worded as to give the shipper absolute control of the goods would make them non-negotiable and would not be accepted by the Banks. The usual terms in practice for most Importing Firms in China are Bills of Lading made out "to order" or to "the order of ——"(giving consignee's name or name of bank) with bills at thirty, sixty or ninety days usance documents against payment. Bills can be drawn, documents against acceptance only by special pre-arrangement with the bank through whom the documents are being sent.

Goods which have once passed through the Customs have got to be cleared before they can be released. No duty is paid when re-exporting foreign goods when once passed through the Customs of China.

Drafts drawn on China are sometimes phrased "payable with all charges" or "payable with all charges and interest at....per cent." Local banks undertake to remit proceeds of Bills, without loss of exchange, if the Bill reads "payable at bank demand selling rate including all charges," in which case at the date of maturity the bank would remit at the bank's selling rate for that date, excepting where the drawer had previously settled exchange against this bill—in which case the rate would be the bank's demand selling rate on the date of settlement of exchange by drawee.

Exports to the United States are financed usually under the form of a documentary credit which some banks do not regard as a credit at all. As a rule the documentary credit is opened at the request of an importer who specifies the name of the bank through which the credit is to arrive, dependent upon the particular bank where the exchange is booked to cover that particular transaction. Other credits in use in exports in China, are confirmed bankers' credits or irrevocable credits which call for no comment, as these credits are well known.

There is still another form of credit that is occasionally utilised and that is, also called "Packing Credit." This is a form of credit by which the importer authorises the local banker to pay the exporter the value of the merchandise, as soon as the goods are packed and ready for shipment. Such cargo is usually hypothecated to the bank until the goods are actually shipped when in exchange for the shipping documents, the bank deducts the amount advanced and gives the exporter the balance in his favor. The usance most common, is 90 days but shipments are made also on 30-60-90 and 120 days, by mutual arrangement between the buyers and the sellers. Business at sight draft is also a common occurence, and with strong financial houses this usance is preferred to all others on account of the great benefit in exchange, between the demand rate and a rate covering interest for a specified period.

The local seller draws ordinarily under a credit opened by the importer.

The only point which deserves to be borne in mind, is that bills drawn D/P, that is documents on payment, are discriminated against to the extent of about ⅛ penny in the rates. The rules governing bills of exchange (stamping, payment, etc.), are based on the law of the countries concerned and the custom of each settlement in Shanghai. For example a bill drawn in New York on China would be stamped in accordance with American law, and the rules regarding protest, dishonor, presentation etc., would apply, while British Laws would be applicable to bills drawn in say, London, on Shanghai.

As a matter of fact, the Chinese have a stamp law, which was passed sometime ago; but, so far it has been totally disregarded, although efforts are being made to bring its provisions into force.

Exporters' bills are drawn usually in the currency of the country to which the goods are being exported.

The usual method of opening a documentary credit is to approach the bank either here or abroad, according to which side is shipping, and having acquainted the bank with the desire to open such a credit, the applicant is handed a form to fill up and sign; in this form he states he wishes to open a documentary credit in favor of the foreign exporter A/I of such and such a place, mentions the total sum for which the credit is to be made available, and states whether one or a series of drafts is to be drawn. He also gives the particulars of the merchandise to be shipped, and agrees to effect the marine and war risk insurance on the goods.

In consideration of the banker agreeing to make advances on the deals which the exporter may draw on the importer, up to a certain specified amount, the importer engages to accept and pay such amounts at maturity if drawn in accordance with the terms of the credit. Each bill drawn under such a credit, is accompanied by a full set of shipping documents usually, invoice, bill of lading and insurance policy (including war risk), all duly hypothecated to the bank as security for the due payment of the bills; and by examining these documents of title to the goods the banker is able to see that the conditions of the credit are complied with. The point of difference between a bank credit and a documentary credit of this description is worth noting.

In the form or notice which is sent to the exporter of the opening of a documentary credit, there is often a clause stating that the credit is not to be considered as a bank credit, and does not relieve the exporters from the liability usually attached to the drawer of a bill of exchange. The term "Documentary Credit" would therefore appear to be somewhat of a misnomer, and it is probably more correct to regard it—at least from the standpoint of the banker—as an authorisation by the importers to the bank to make certain advances to the exporter on the responsibility of the importer.

Most of the bills in connection with the eastern trade are on an interest basis, that is to say, the bill of exchange containing a clause stating the sterling amount, is payable at the bank's drawing rate in the East on London or specified point of destination for demand drafts, together with interest at current rates added thereto from the date of the bill to the approximate due date of the arrival of the proceeds into the hands of the bank making the payment. Of course, the shipper may elect to sent his bills for collection through the bank and wait for the money until the bills have been paid in the East, and this is merely a matter of arrangement with the banker.

The exchange rates are locally quoted in a daily issue by the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank which gives the exchange rates on London, France, New York, Hongkong, Japan and India. These rates are based on what is known as London "Bank Wire" which needs little explanation; it is the bank's selling rate for sterling on London, and means that the buyer has to give one tael in Shanghai for the equivalent of the sterling rate given by the bank, in its London bank wire.

Telegraphic transfer exchange can also be settled forward, and in forward business the buyer would always have to pay a little more than he would, if he were buying immediate T/T. Generally speaking there would be a difference in the rate of 1-16d. or ⅛d. for delivery up to say 3 months forward. "Demand" is a quotation for bank demand bills "banks 4 m.s. sight" means the price for bank bills at 4 m.s., that is to say, payable 4 months after the bill has been sighted and accepted in London, plus the 3 days grace.

Documentary 4 m.s. sight is the rate that banks will purchase bills drawn on a given place with documents attached "New York bank payment 24⅝" means that the bank will sell a bill drawn on the U.S.A. for that amount of American gold dollars, payable on demand in exchange for 100 Shanghai Taels. "Credits 3 m.s. sight" and "documentary 4 m.s. sight" are the bank's buying rates for bills drawn under credits and bills with documents attached on the price, in each case is given in U. S. gold dollars in exchange for 100 Shanghai Taels. Exchange rates briefly put is the value of the Tael in foreign currency based upon the London daily rate of the value of silver.

Bills drawn on the United States, are customarily domiciled in New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Boston and occasionally in smaller cities.

New York rates of disconnt are regularly and accurately quoted in Shanghai through the medium of cables to the International Banking Corporation and the Hongkong and Shanghai Banks.

Local banks keep themselves posted on daily quotations of exchange rates of the principal financial centers of the world, through the medium of daily cables from New York and London, giving the value of silver of these pleaes on date of cabling.

Wedding

WEAVER—LIVESLEY

On Monday morning July 30th the church at Kuling was the scene of a pretty wedding. The contracting parties were the Rev. E. S. Livesley and Miss B. Weaver, both of the Wesleyan Mission. There was glorious sunshine and a large number of guests and friends assembled to witness the ceremony. The restrum of the church was tastefully decorated with Lilies and evergreens, the work of Mrs. Perkin.

The Rev. H. H. Rattenbury was the officiating minister, Miss Wagstaff of Hankow was the bridesmaid, Rev. G. N. Watts of Suichow the best man, and Rev. P. T. Dempsey of Hanyang took the place of the father of the bride. The bride looked charming in her dress of crepe-de-chine, with veil, and wreath of orange blossom. She carried a sheaf of white lilies. The bridesmaid was also prettily dressed in rose silk crepe and georgette, with black hat trimmed with roses, and carried a bouquet of pink and white flowers. After the ceremony a reception was held at the mission bungalow for ladies, the Misses Gooch and Booth acting hostesses. The happy couple left for Kiukiang soon after, en route for Shanghai.

Tls. 200,000 Fire In Godown On French Bund

right at the back—No. 16, a 3—story godown, did not offer any resistance and had to be shielded by a screen of water from a powerful jet on S.F.B. long ladders and from jets from the ground, working in the 15-foot alleyway that ran along the back. Also, No. 11, a godown similar in size to that one on fire, had to be watched and more jets used as the eaves were just catching.

Altogether the two brigades had their hands full and it was fully two hours before it could be said that the fire would be confined to No. 10 and the valuable surrounding buildings saved. The work in this respect was a matter for congratulation as in very little time No. 10 was a mass of flames from one end to the other on the first floor and roof. Even up to half-past three there was very little let-up in the operations of the firemen.

Apart from the brigades, mention should be made of the good work done by B. & S.'s staff under Mr. Forsyth—who, by the way, was driven out of his bedroom with Mrs. Forsyth by the heat and smoke, the godown on fire being not many feet away—and also that done by some Officers of the French Navy, under the command of Commander Estevat, who worked like Trojans.

The cause of the fire has not yet been determined. The upper portion of No. 10 godown was gutted, but the ground floor, used as offices, was saved and the damage to surroundings was very slight.

GOVERNOR TELLS HOW P.I. LOCUSTS WERE BANISHED

Wood Cites Result As Showing Good Of Military Training

(Reuter's Pacific Service) ..

Manila, July 29.—Experience in military tactics gained on the field of battle is sometimes useful in civil administration, and the armies backed with bayonets, aeroplanes and heavy artillery are not the only dangerous enemy to a country, Governor General Leonard Wood demonstrated to the members of the Manila Rotary Club last Wednesday.

He spoke on the accomplishments of his administration in the Philippine Islands during the past two years. The Governor General referred to the campaign against the locusts in the terms of a military adventure, telling how staff and field officers reported daily the spread and movements of the hoppers, where the larvae hatched, what regions were most infested with the hoppers in the pre-flying stage, and the direction taken by the large flyers.

Charts and maps were maintained in the Governor General's office, the new lines being marked by colored pins, so that at a glance the exact position of the pest's lines, and the headway being made by Governor General's pest control forces, could be determined at a minute's notice, much as a commanding general in a battle studies the lines and positions of his and the enemy's troops.

The Governor General said it was a real champaign, and carried with it much of the interest and excitement of a military undertaking.

ASIATIC MOTORS ORGANISED BY SHANGHAI MEN

New Auto Concern To Operate Garages And Sell Cars

Announcement has been made of the completion of the corporation and registration of the Asiatic Motors Inc. by R. S. Haskell, secretary of the company and local American attorney.

The entrance of the Asiatic Motors into the automotive fields of China is only another proof of the great developments which are taking place in the motor car industry of China. The Asiatic Motors is composed of a large number of Shanghai's prominent and influential business men. The company has an authorised capital of U. S. Gold $650,000 and at the present time is operating a salesroom at 27 Avenue Edward VII, service station at Broadway and Kungping Roads, and at Bubbling Well Road and Avenue Haig. They are also operating the Great Northern Garage and St. George's Garage, both of which garages are well known to the Shanghai public through their taxi and hire service.

The company has completed franchises with some of America's largest and best known motor car manufacturers. The company will also carry some of the better known continental makes of cars, all of which cars will be handled from the principal distributing points in China. The foreign staff is composed of men of long automobile experiences in America and also in China. The company is equiping itself to render a service to its customers such as will not be excelled by any automobile distributing organisation either in China or America.

MR. CHANG HU IS OFFERED PEKING FINANCE POST

He Consents To Consider Nomination And Will Reply In 3 Days

Peking, August 6.—Following the refusal of Wang Keh-min to take up office as the Minister of Finance, the Tientsin clique, headed by Tsao Jui, Tsao Kun's brother, offered the finance portfolio today to Mr. Chang Hu, ex-Minister of Finance, who has consented to consider the offer, promising to give a definite reply by Wednesday.

Minister Chang's only obstacle to the office will be the probable antagonising attitude of General Wu Pei-fu, who suspects him of being a Fengtien agent. But it is understood that Wu has expressly informed Chang's friends that he would not object if it was the desire of Tsao Kun to give him the job.

Chang has the support of Ex-Premier Chin Yung-peng and Ex-Minister of Finance Pan Fu, whose ability to raise funds is considered by North China as great.

The Cabinet Saturday evening issued an order, abolishing all existing bureaus for the readjustment of finance and organised the Commission on Finance Readjustment. Dr. W. W. Yen was appointed its first director.

There will be fourteen commissioners, being heads of various departments, the Inspector-General of Customs and members of the directorate of the Bankers' Association; 24 experts, eight secretaries and a large number of advisors and agents.

PEKING SEES PLOT TO BRING INTERVENTION

Copper Notes Used To Pay Police Are Not Negotiable

(Reuter's Pacific Service) ..

Peking, Aug. 3.—Plotting against the peace of Peking with the ulterior motive of creating an opportunity for intervention from without is reported in well informed Chinese circles.

Evidence is forthcoming today by the fact that the fifty and one hundred copper notes are not redeemable. This is stated to be part of the scheme for creating trouble in the capital, for the Metropolitan troops, the gendarmerie and the police were recently paid in these notes, and these men are not likely to accept the position in silence.

It is estimated that about $400,000 worth of these notes have been issued by the Kuan Chien Chu under the Ministry of Finance.

In Chinese circles it has been known for some time that those who are endeavoring to pull strings behind the scenes have wished either General Wang Huai-ching, Commander of the Peking Garrison, or General Feng Yu-hsiang to allow their troops to get out of hand, and be suppressed by the other, but neither have shown any inclination to allow himself to be sacrificed.

General Lu Chun, Marshal Tsao Kun's chief of staff, now appears as another Richmond in the fields. He has come to Peking and feeling certain that he would not ultimately suffer is prepared to permit his 9th Division to cause the trouble which would afford excuse for entry from without because of disorder in the capital owing to the absence of a responsible head.

as they mourn the lost of a beloved President. Mr. Harding did not say much which usually shows as the power of a great personality. I was in New York three years ago and read with interest some of his election speeches. I remember on one occasion when he was pressed to give his policy on various points he refused, saying that he was not for the time so much concerned with details of policy as he was in bringing the hearts and minds of the American people together, so that when a policy was evolved there might be the force of a united nation behind it.

"Now as we looked back, we see that with singular effectment he successfully strove to realise his ideal, pursuing his way to the end. He has left behing him not only a united people, but in a period of grave international unrest, he has contributed much to a better understanding between leading nations of the world."

Haven, Debutante, Wins Thrilling Yacht Race To Woosung And Return

Newcomer Takes Lead On Homeward Journey And Is Not Headed; Violet And Haikuan Have Mishaps

The first of a series of three races for the Club's Challenge Cup was sailed on Sunday over a 31-mile course from Shanghai to Woosung, rounding the Lismore Buoy at the mouth of the Whangpoo River to Port, and back to the Bund.

At 9:30 a.m. five competitors crossed the line, namely the Violet (Commodore E. T. Byrne), sailed by Mr. J. E. R. Harris; Haikuan (Vice-Commodore T. Mellows), sailed by Mr. R. W. Davis; the Haven, (Mr. H. E. Middleton); Oistos (Mr. Frank Gates) and Ella (Mr. H. E. Jones).

The wind blew fairly freshly from E.S.E. and at least two of the competitors thought it advisable to put in a reef before starting. The Violet and the Oistos led all the way down, sailing almost abreast of one another, while the Ella and the Haven had a ding dong race together not far behind them, with the Haikuan, which was late in crossing the line, gamely following. It was a rather uninteresting run down before the wind until Woosung was reached, but on rounding Pheasant Point quite a nasty sea was encountered as a result of the wind being against the tide. Rounding the Lismore Buoy, outside the Woosung Breakwater, provided a quite exciting piece of sailing and more than one of the boats shipped a good deal of water which the crews were obliged to bale out.

The outward race finished at the Woosung Customs Hulk and at this point the elapsed times were:

No. 1—Violet, 2h. 28m. 18 secs.
No. 7—Oistos, 2h. 30m. 03 secs.
No. 4—Haven, 2h. 41m. 37 secs.
No. 8—Ella, 2h. 41m. 51 secs.
No. 2—Haikuan, 2h. 42m. 07 secs.

The homeward race was started at 3 p.m. and was much more interesting; the breeze was a good deal stronger and it was a dead beat up the Astrea Channel as far as Kajao.

VIOLET HAS MISHAP

Shortly after the start an unfortunate accident to the Violet put her out of the race. In an attempt to follow the Oistos who was steering a course through the junks that lie at anchor off Woosung Creek, her mainsail caught on some gear overhanging the stern of one of them and it ripped completely across at the peak: the damage was so bad, that she had no alternative but to abandon the race. It was most unfortunate as she had an excellent chance of winning and expressions of regret were heard on all sides.

Some really good sailing was experienced in tacking up the Astrea Channel and here the Vice-Commodore's yacht Haikuan had the misfortune to go aground. Although she got off again very quickly she was passed by the Ella and lost valuable time.

By the time Kajao was reached the Haven had sailed through all her competitors and taken the lead. This was her debut in the Club's official races and her performance was somewhat of a surprise. Once having obtained the lead she never lost it and finished some 3 min. 35 secs. ahead of the Oistos, the scratch boat.

The elapsed times for the race home were as follows:

No. 4—Haven, 2h. 26m. 30 secs.
No. 7—Oistos, 2h. 30m. 15 secs.
No. 8—Ella, 2h. 22m. 05 secs.
No. 2—Haikuan, 2h. 37m. 30 secs.
No. 1—Violet, Disabled—gave up.

TIMES GIVEN

The Challenge Cup Races are sailed under Rating Handicaps and after these had been calculated and deducted it was found that the total corrected elapsed times were as follows:

No. 4—Haven, 4h. 54m. 00 secs.—1.
No. 7—Oistos, 5h. 00m. 18 secs.—2.
No. 2—Haikuan, 5h. 09m. 28 secs.—3.
No. 8—Ella, 5h. 11m. 18 secs.—4.

The first leg on the Cup was therefore won by the Haven and her owner, Mr. H. E. Middleton, the Club's Hon. Secretary, who sailed her throughout, received many congratulations on his success.

The race for the second leg is to take place on the 19th instant, over a course set entirely outside Woosung and, should conditions be favorable, some really good sailing is anticipated.

BOXING NIGHTLY AT THE STADIUM IS ANNOUNCEMENT

Fine Talent In Shanghai Is Belief Of The Management

A new schedule of boxing is to be put into force at the Stadium on Great Western Road, beginning tonight. The new arrangement calls for boxing every night in the week, with the big show coming on Friday evening of each week.

The Stadium management has discovered that there is a mine of boxing talent in Shanghai among the large number of Russians now here, and by having a show every night it is believed that some of these can be developed into really first class scrappers. Six bouts will be put on each evening.

The nightly bouts will be in the nature of try-outs for the big show each Friday night, when there will be ten bouts. To encourage attendance the prices of admission have been slashed radically, the new prices providing for any seat in the bleachers at one dollar, and ringside seats at two dollars.

The Friday night shows, however, are not to be turned over entirely to local boxers, as good fighters will be imported from other places, as formerly. Among those who are coming here shortly is Billy Tingle, holder of the fly and bantom weight titles of the Philippines and Australia. Tingle is coming to the Stadium to fill three engagements that have already been made for him, and to take part in others that will be arranged later.

The Stadium management has announced that one Russian heavy weight has been discovered who gives promise of showing some real class. He weighs in at 180 pounds and is willing to meet anybody at that weight or to give away a few pounds if necessary. The Russians are very keen for the boxing game and are working their heads off at the stadium in preparation for their forthcoming bouts. They do not bar anybody at their weights and are eager for matches. It is not likely that they will be be disappointed in this respect as there are numerous Filipino boxers in town and as fighting is their middle name there is very likely to be some real scraps at the Stadum before long.

The nightly shows, it is anticipated, will give the managers a good line on the talent that can be matched for the big Friday night shows.

Club Felicits Wins At Tennis

The tennis team of Club Felicitis had a return match with the S.M.C. Police at Sinza Station on Sunday afternoon. Each team was represented by five pairs of doubles. The result was 3-1 in favor of the Club. On account of the darkness the last pair was unable to end its game. Tyau and T. T. Chang again showed for the club while Wood and Hunter brought credit to the Police. Both Koo's and T. T.'s pairs played well. The summary is as follows:

T. T. Chang and C. H. Tyau vs. Bull, Quayle 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.
C. S. Koo and Z. L. Koo vs. Jefferson, Shellswell 6-4, 1-6, 6-3, 6-1.
C. N. Koo and K. L. Siao vs. Hunter, Wood 4-6, 6-2, 5-7, 4-6.
T. T. Chow and T. T. Zee vs. Adams, Doyle 6-3, 6-2, 6-8, 6-2.
S. Y. Lock and W. P. Wong vs. Issacs, Robinson 6-2, 10-12, 5-7.

CHARLEY WHITE AND NICK BOYLE TO FIGHT AGAIN

Boxers Who Put Up Good Show Last Time Matched By Bellew

The newly organised Shanghai Athletic Association, encouraged by the great success of the opening show at the Old Carlton last Friday night, will stage another entertainment at the same place a week from Thursday evening. In the opening show Prof. Bellew demonstrated that there is no lack of good local talent provided the match making is cleverly done, the bout between Toledo and Favacho being one of the best ever witnessed here.

The big match at the forthcoming show will be a ten round argument between Nick Boyle and Charlie White. These two, it will be recalled by boxing fans, put up the snappiest exhibition seen in Shanghai in many a long day the last time they met, but as both boys had met previous defeats the fraternity didn't turn out very well, not suspecting the pair would show much. The battle, contrary to all expectations, turned out to be a hummer, and ever since then there has been a persistent demand on the part of the boxing fans for another meeting between the two.

Another pair of boxers that will be brought together on this occasion are Babe Siemssen and Carlson. These two boys, both amateurs, are fine scrappers and should either decide to enter the professional class there is no doubt that some of these alleged lightweights around town would have to look very closely to their laurels.

A third bout will be between Kyko, the battling Filipino, and Kid Frisco. The Kid did not show so well in his last scrap with Favacho, but on that occasion he had to give away too much weight to show at his best.

Other matches are being arranged and Prof. Bellew will box a few exhibition rounds. It was originaly intended to make the show a private affair, but there were so many requests for tickets from outsiders when it was announced that Boyle and White were to meet again that it was decided to open the show to the public. Women, accompanied by share holders in the Association will be admitted.

GALLOPERS TAKE FINAL FROM MARINES, 12-2

Locals Get Revenge For Previous Defeats At Hands Of Visitors

The Peking Marines went back to Peking yesterday, smiling but not very happy. They won four out of the six game argument with the Gallopers, but the wallop ing they suffered Sunday took all the joy out of their chorties. Score 12 to 2 in favor of our gang.

The game went along evenly until the sixth frame, with both Scott and Zenman pitching good ball. The Gallopers helped themselves to a one run lead in the fifth but that didn't look very hefty the way the Leatherneck's speed merchant was going. In their half of the sixth the visitors evened the count, and everybody settled back expecting to see them pull ahead, as usual.

But when the Shanghai bunch went to bat in their half of the sixth the old army machine suddenly flew to pieces, and before Skipper Gorman, who was on first in place of Philpots, could get them together again the Gallopers had pushed over eight markers. That was plenty, but just for good measure they added two more in the seventh.

Paris, Aug. 4.—The Italian newspapers publish the following Note:

The reply handed by the Marquis della Torrete to Marquess Curzon declares that Italy is in agreement in principle with the efforts of Britain to arrive at an understanding for the reconstruction of Europe but makes more than one reservation on the methods to be followed to attain that end. It sums up the Italian program in which the necessity of reaching a just solution of the question of reparations and debts holds place. It is also known that the Italian Government is particularly anxious that no loophole is left to Germany who must fulfil her obligations. The reservations which were made verbally by the Italian Ambassador in London are still more precise and there may be more of them.

Paris, Aug. 4.—The British press publishes the text of the French Note on reparations, which is well received in Franco-phile circles in London. Amongst its advantages the Note has that of dissipating the impression that France, and not Britain, has to gain by the keeping secret of the negotiations which have taken place between the various Chancelleries. The Daily Mail says, that while being drawn up in courteous and friendly terms, the documents are extremely firm and decisive.

WOULD REVAMP LEAGUE SO AS TO INCLUDE AMERICA

Lord Robert Cecil Plans To Rewrite Obnoxious Article Ten

Paris, Aug. 2.—On the eve of the last general meeting of the League of Nations' Disarmament Commission which begins here tomorrow, it was generally predicted that Lord Robert Cecil's plan for making Article Ten palatable to America and at the same time retaining its effectiveness, would be adopted.

The plan as it is now written provides that the continent shall have lesser protective leagues of their own and shall be liable for the defense of the countries on that continent, but not for the countries of other continents.

The plan is intended to prevent the interpretation that the United States will have to send soldiers to Europe every time some nation is in trouble. The Cecil Proposal provides that the Europeans shall take care of their own defense and the American republics can settle their own mutual defense and guarantee problems.

Under his plan, nations will group together into a league that will guarantee each member protection aginst invasion of territory. Each group of nations will decide how large the Continental protective force shall be and the nations in conference will decide how far warranted in disbanding troops in exchange for the guarantees offered.

No secret is made of the hope that this plan, fully protecting the Monroe Doctrine, will ultimately bring the United States into full participation in the worldwide disarmament.

Lord Cecil believes that the plan can be adopted in such detail at the General Assembly which opens this month, that it can be referred to the nations for adoption as a whole and put into effect in a little more than a year.

While agreeing to the general proposal and method of disarmament, Colonel Emile Requin, France's representative, believes that the nations should have a choice of methods and take a longer period to study the details. He does not believe that uniformity will be obtained, he said last night, if the various groups work out their own details.

The Cecil plan is the compilation made after three years of study.

New Military Society In Japan

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, July 30.—"To protect the Constitution of the Empire; to preserve national law and order; to encourge a respect for justice and a spirit of self-sacrifice; to encourage a national spirit and an army for the people; and to perfect national defense in order to preserve national existence and to promote peace." These are the principles of the new Popular Association for the study of Military Science, which was enthusiastically inaugurated this morning at a meeting held here.

Admiral Yashiro presided and was supported by an assembly of three hundred presons, among whom were Mr. Miyata, Chief Secretary of the Cabinet, Lieutenant General Yamada, Commander of the Gendarmerie, Rear-Admiral Yoshii, and Dr. Niuakawa.

After a number of congratulatory addresses from the Chairman and others the foregoing aims and objects of the Association were put to the meeting and were carried unanimously.

France And Belgium May Launch New Move To End Reparations Tangle

(Reuter's Service)

London, Aug. 4.—A new move by France and Belgium is foreshadowed in a report from Reuter's Paris Correspondent who quotes the Matin as stating that the representatives at Duesseldorf have been authorised to listen to the proposals of the Rhine industrialists and to study the possibility of a new regime with the object of re-establishing productive activity in he Basin. The journal adds that, since inter-Allied solutions are deferred and Berlin obstruction remains, it is at Essen, Coblence and Mayence that the problem must henceforth be discussed by all interests.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Aug. 4.—The Belgian reply to the British Note, the issue of which cancels the desire previously expressed in Brussels that publication should be delayed, says, with regard to passive resistance, that the German ordinances on that matter must be withdrawn, but Belgium will not refuse to discuss reparations, even if the people of the Ruhr continue to manifest disapproval of the occupation, provided that the latter has not resulted from orders from Berlin.

Following the cessation of passive resistance, Belgium is willing to grant an amnesty to certain offenders amongst the people of the Ruhr, except to saboteurs, and the like.

Belgium is willing to discuss with France gradual modification of the occupation and its limitation to the measurers indicated to Germany in January.

The reply believes that it would be unjust to the Allies to throw on them the costs of the reparation due by Germany, who is devoting enormous sums to strenghteming her industrial development and would soon be enabled to compete victoriously with the Allies and prepare military revenge.

Belgium does not object to the Reparation Commissioners being assisted by experts, subject to there being no breach of the Treaty of Versailles, but would like to understand the British reference to "impartial experts."

London, August 5.—Mr. J. P. Morgan has arrived in England. He will probably be in Europe for three or four months. And there are indications that he may work for the settlement of the reparations question during his stay in Europe.

If he moves in this direction, Mr. Morgan will insist on the fixation of the capacity of Germany to meet reparations and the offering by Germany of definite pledges for foreign loans to meet reparations and pay for rehabilitation.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 6.—Political circles today doubt the ability of the Tientsin clique to carry through the nomination of Mr. Chang Hu as Minister of Finance owing to the undefined attitude of Marshal Tsao Kun and General Wu Pei-fu.

British Savants Unbend And Cheer Canadian

Dartmouth, England, July 25.—Savants of the British medical association so far forgot their professional dignity today that they cheered heartily for the young Canadian doctor, F. G. Banting when he was introduced to tell of his discovery of the use of insulin for the treatment of diabetes.

SANTUAO'S TRADE GOOD DESPITE DISTURBANCES

Because the usual political disturbances came at the end of the year when trade was dull anyway, instead of during the summer when the tea season was at its height, the trade of Santuao experiences a fair degree of prosperity during 1922, according to the annual report of Commissioner of Customs J. E. Harisborn. The native customs also showed a slow but steady increase.

The customs collections totaled Tls. 100,385, the highest since 1919 and an increase of Tls. 15,035 over 1921. Over 96 percent of the total revenue derived at Santuao comes from exports as the greater part of the foreign goods arrive with import duties paid. The net value of foreign goods imported amounted to Tls. 153,033 as against Tls. 135,99 last year. The decrease was due to a drop in the price of the goods as the amount was greater.

No striking changes took place in shipping. Except for two vessels the trade was carried on by Chinese vessels, 472 vessels of 74,964 tons entered the port as against 386 vessels of 56,918 tons in 1921.

Cold Storage Company Sues Chefoo Firm

The case of the Tsingtao Cold Storage Company versus L. H. Smith and Co., of Chefoo, was heard by Judge Lobingier at the United States Court for China at Tientsin on Friday.

The claim arises over the alleged wrongful libelling of the ss. Hanamet at Chefoo, on December 30, 1921, at the instance of L. H. Smith and Co. whereby the Tsingtao Cold Storage Company, owners of the vessel, claimed to have suffered damages to the extent of $ 32,209.65 local currency. Plaintiffs were represented by Dr. Charles James Fox, acting attorney, Mr. Theodore E. Simmang, claimed they had a just claim against the vessel and a maritime lien in the sum of $17,878.31, with interest, owing to them by the North China Cold Storage Company, whose assets and liabilities had been assumed by the Tsingtao Cold Storage Company.

"JACK STRAW"

A load of ice, a waiter's tray and a woman—Jack could handle 'em all.

When he changed his waiter's garb for the trappings of archduke and went making love among the rich, the game was a "cinch" until—

But why mention one thrilling scene? This picture has a dozen! All as full of fun, surprise and appealing romance as their iceman-hero "nobleman" is full of nerve.

Based on John Drew's Celebrated Stage Hit by Somerset Maugham. Directed by William De Mille. Scenario by Olga Printzlau.

A dramatic story portrayed by a great cast featuring
Grace Darmond
Mahlon Hamilton
Clyde Fillmore
from the story by Rupert Julian
Directed by Geo. Archainbaud
This is the story of a girl, primarily—and a man. She had none of the advantages of education or training—she was a thief! He was a gentleman of leisure, rich, educated (and refined?). He caught her! And in his hatred, he recommended that she be jailed, little thinking that the day was to come when he in his misery would love her and look up to her, his only salvation.
An intensely dramatic theme, highly developed, and enacted by a cast of your favorite players. Do see it!

MAILS ARRIVING AND DEPARTING TO U.S. SATURDAY

A heavy mail will arrive in Shanghai from the United States on the President Jefferson next Saturday, and following the sailing of the President McKinley on Sunday, the next mail for America will go on the Empress of Russia the same day.

The McKinley, taking mail and 48 passengers from Shanghai, sailed from the China Merchants Central Wharf at 2.30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and is due to arrive in Seattle via Kobe and Yokohama on August 21.

The Jefferson, which sailed be from Seattle on July 25, should dock at Yokohama yesterday, and the Empress of Australia will arrive at that port from Vancouver this morning, and is expected in Shanghai on Sunday.

A mail from Europe arrived on the M.M. steamer Paul Lecat Sunday morning. The vessel which came from Marseilles, docked at the S. M. R. Whangpoo Wharf, and will sail for Kobe and Yokohama at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning.

With mail for Europe, the Blue Funnel steamer Titan will leave Shanghai for Genoa, Marseilles, Liverpool and Glasgow via ports next Friday, and mail will close at 8 o'clock Thursday night.

Following the Titan, mails for Europe will be sent on the vessels Chambord, for Marseilles on August 17, and the Kashmir for London, August 18, and the next mail from Europe is due on the P. and O. liner Dongola, Wednesday next week. The vessel is coming from London, and was expected to leave Singapore yesterday.

The steamer Magic Star which went aground at the entrance of the Poyang Lake last Tuesday, has been refloated and arrived at Nanking on Saturday morning. No word is yet to hand respecting damage to the vessel, if any.

Bank Clerks In Spain On Strike

(Reuter's Service)

London, Aug. 5.—Banking in Spain is disorganised by a strike of Bank clerks for higher pay. Reuter's correspondent at Madrid telegraphs that the Westminster Bank, one of "the big five", in spite of bringing from England a number of clerks to replace the Spanish malcontents, has now closed down in consequence of intimidation. Two other banks have also suspended operations.

The banks refuse to reinstate the clerks on strike unless they resign from the Union, wich is stated to be controlled by the Communists. Some disorders have occurred resulting in twenty arrests. The Government is considering a modified form of moratorium owing to the banking confusion.
